CHAPTER ONE

WHAT IS CLASSICAL EVOLUTION?

If you were to ask any scientist for their definition of evolution, they would tell you that it is how the life began with a single cell organism. Through many millions, if not billions of mutations, animals and plants progressed until they reached our present selection of fauna and flora. That, being, the simplest explanation. They might also tell you that presently, aside from changes within species, evolution has stopped.

If you went to ask to those same scientists the age of the Earth, they would tell you somewhere in the area of 4 or 5 billion years old. They would tell you that life probably began 1 billion years ago when a single cell animal was born in some type of soup made of many different amino acids that were created by the water and minerals. They will tell you that a lightning strike hit the little puddle of water and minerals and the basic amino acids and proteins were created. If you asked the scientists how he proposed the age of fossils that have been found, he would tell you that the ages were determined by the strata where the fossils were found. The deeper the fossil, the oldest the strata. If you were to ask him how they determined the age of the strata, he would tell you that they determine that figure by the fossils that were in the strata. This is called circular reasoning, something that scientists should not do.

You could then ask the scientist how the universe began. He would cite the current theory that it began with a Big Bang, where a very small area of space, (how small none of them knows), exploded to create the Earth, solar system, the galaxy and all the other thousands of galaxies that have been discovered. On purpose, they will tell you that this that all happened by chance, not by plan.

As is evident, there are many ways where evolution has been put to the test and failed each test. I will not try to list those ways. There are many Internet sites where you can go and learn from scientific and other people trained in the sciences that can explain the evolution fallacies and myths.

Is Evolution Really a Science?

In true science, there are a series of steps that one should take to demonstrate that something is true. First, a scientist has a thought or revelation on a concept. Then, if it seems reasonable, the idea becomes a theory and it should be accepted by others in the scientific field. Then, the scientist should conduct a series of experiments in the lab or in the field until it demonstrates undeniably that what they have proposed is really true. After that, the theory becomes a scientific law. Below is a flow-chart illustrating how a hypothesis works:

The picture above is pretty accurate in its explanation of how a hypothesis works. When a hypothesis has been proven by more data, hopefully from other sources it then becomes a Theory. When a theory can be proven irrefutable it then becomes a law. The picture was sourced from [<https://www.sciencebuddies.org/science-fair-projects/science-fair/steps-of-the-scientific-method>]

A good way to illustrate Scientific Law is to show the Second Law of Thermodynamics:

The second law of thermodynamics states that the total entropy of an isolated system can never decrease over time. The total entropy can remain constant in ideal cases where the system is in a steady state (equilibrium), or is undergoing a reversible process.

I think that most of us in the civilized world can best understand this by looking at the care that we take in preserving our automobiles. If a vehicle is properly maintained it could possibly last forever, however maintaining every little part of a car or truck is almost impossible to do. But, if we change the oil every 4 thousand miles, keep things greased and use good fuel we are off to a good start toward thwarting the effects of entropy. If you wash your vehicle and wax it regularly you can prevent rust from destroying the body of the truck. What the Second Law of Thermodynamics is saying is that in an open system (a world being destroyed by entropy) we can prevent or severely retard the effects of entropy or decay.

Take the Law of Gravity for example. Well, gravity has always been here, and it was a law from the creation of time, but it had to be demonstrated by science so that the man could put a label on it. Isaac Newton (who had faith in Yeshua), conducted a series of experiments and demonstrated the law of Gravity. Once man could calculate gravity, he could begin to overcome it. Because man now understands gravity, he can design better bullets and figure coefficients, he can shoot artillery shells and have them land right at your feet and can launch hundreds of rockets in the space to spend even more of your tax dollars.

The scientific theory is a fine method if it is used scientifically. I think that we should look more now at evolution and see if it is really scientific. The theory of evolution says that:

- 1. The Earth, galaxy and the whole universe were created by chance in a big explosion. The Big Blow was created when a very small mass of something exploded, but they can not tell you what made it explode. [Something that nobody saw and cannot be reproduced in a laboratory]*
- 2. Life began on Earth when inorganic material (stones or dirt) formed amino acids that were able to form a single animal or plant cell. [They cannot explain how this happened and it has never been performed in a laboratory, but they swear it happened.]*

3. They say that millions, if not billions of mutations happened here on Earth over four billion years to give us the plants and animals that we have today. [They however, cannot produce any transition fossil or any evidence of this].
4. They don't explain to an unsuspecting public that when a mutation happens, there is a 99 percent chance that the mutation will be harmful, fatal or it won't produce any change in the organism. [So, they cling to the what should be miracles to support their story].
5. They have invented a series of "age date" tests. Some are accurate but have limitations. The evolutionary scientists always date with different methods and then use the one that most closely matches their preconceived notions.
6. They take their theory, which they cannot prove using scientific process and perpetuate their lie through the media and through the schools in a deliberate attempt to condition the public, from grade school up to the elderly. [Sounds like a faith to me]

If I was to write a Bible for scientists, the verses to below would illustrate what they believe.

"At the beginning, the Universe created the heavens and the Earth. The omnipotent big bang was lit, but we don't know what lit it. And the universe created all the planets, solar systems, and galaxies (countless atoms) from a small area of sub atomic building blocks, but it won't reveal how it did this. And although one of their own laws dictated that the things left to themselves deteriorate, the universe didn't allow this to happen. And the universe created order of the disorder, breaking its own law.

Then the Universe said, allow us to take a little of this and a little of that and create life on Earth. And we will create a miracle by creating organic life from the inorganic stone. And the universe called the life a cell and said that it was good. And the universe said, let the cell divide so that it can evolve into all sorts of plants and animals.

And Universe saw that almost all mutations were harmful to their organism, so it intervened so that the macro-evolution could happen, suspending that law of nature. And the universe had a lesser god and it was called Evolution. Then the Evolution said, I will create another god and I will call it Time.

So Evolution took Time to himself and had relations with her and Time birthed many descendant to Evolution. They called their first offspring Flora. Flora grew strong and had many children which grew strong and covered the whole Earth. The second children of Time and Evolution were named crustaceans and fish. They lived in harmony for many years. After the eons, Time and Evolution again had relations and she gave birth to another son and it was named Amphibian.

Now, Amphibian was a strange descendant because it could survive on earth and in water. Evolution's Father favored amphibian more than the Flora, so he sent Flora far from him to grow separate from the family, but always under their watchful eye. Then Evolution and Time had relations again and became pregnant. When the birth time came she gave birth to another son and she called it Reptile.

Now, Reptile was a powerful creature, high in stature and ferocious in battle. When the reptile would walk the earth the ground would tremble. Reptile produced many of his type, carnivores and herbivores. The herbivores were kind and meek creatures and they favored their cousins, Flora's children. The carnivores were damned in their existence and it seemed that they only favored the meat of their siblings the herbivores.

Time called to the Evolution and him showed him the sky. Time said, the sky is of such a beauty and there is not anything to inhabit it. Have relations with me so that we can produce descendant that will decorate the sky. So, Evolution went to her and had relations with her and she gave birth to Bird. And the Birds had wings that allowed them to navigate the skies that also protected them from the Reptile.

Evolution and Time looked at the Earth and saw that what they had created was bad, and violence covered the face of the Earth and the depth of the sea. He consulted Universe who agreed, and they conspired with him to create a catastrophe. So, Evolution came to Time and said "we should have relations and we should create another son, one to replace Reptile because all their thoughts constantly are bad. For an age is coming when I will destroy most of the life on Earth and very few will survive. Our new son will have domain of all the Earth.

So, Evolution and Time again relations and Time gave birth to Mammal. The Mammal was a small son and a great nuisance to his siblings, Reptile Amphibian and Fish. The mammal also had affections for Flora.

At this Evolution and Universe decided to destroy most of what lived on the Earth.

Evolution told Flora of the plans said because he loved her. This allowed her to produce enough seed for her to make children when Evolution showed favor again to the Earth. She knew that she would perish.

Then the omnipotent Universe announced that the time had come to destroy the Earth and most lived on it. The universe ordered a big asteroid to hit the earth at what would later become the Peninsula of Yucatan. The sky rained brimstone and fire and a large cloud rose into the sky. The cloud covered the whole Earth and it destroyed most of Amphibian and Reptile, but the Mammal survived, and it flourished.

When the Earth recovered, the Mammal began to have relationships inside itself and it produced many species different from itself. Some of his children called themselves the rodents, equines, pachyderms and simians. Now Evolution and Time favored the simians and they decided to allow the simians to crack in two branches, one bigger and one lesser. The lesser ones, later became the monkeys and great apes and they wanted to continue being simians and Evolution gave them its blessing. The greater branch said that they wanted to be called sapiens and they were also given a blessing.

Sapien was a noble creature, resembling its gods Time and Evolution. And Sapien went by a variety of mutations, all with the blessings of its gods. Now, Sapien reached a pinnacle and they could speak, reason and it could make a variety of different things that any creature before he had not made. Time called to Universe because she was interested in how powerful sapiens had become. She said, see, he has been given a name; he calls himself Mankind.” And Universe was also interested. They summoned Evolution to the sacred mountain and Universe decreed that Evolution would no longer be able to produce offspring. Universe said, from now on you will only be a name, a figurehead, because you have created a creature that can reason, and he will be exactly as us.”

That is why, at this moment, evolution has ceased, and we cannot see any form of him that continues today. Now go and preach this gospel to all the nations. Adulterate the children first in their schools. And print this gospel in each daily newspaper and transmit it in the radio and television until you have deceived the whole of humanity. And do not fear, because I am always with you, as long as nobody comes against me.

CHAPTER TWO

EVOLUTION IS A FAITH BASED PHILOSOPHY

The words “religion” and “faith” are interchangeable in our modern society. The Biblical definition of faith is:

Now, Faith is being sure what we hope for and certain of what we do not see. Hebrews 11:1

I think that that we can that all agree that this is a good definition.

For the Christian, faith is quite simple, and it can be summarized by a few lines:

- YHVH created the Earth in 7 literal days.
- All mankind is guilty of sin and they need a redeemer, and YHVH promised one.
- Jesus, through his words, the actions, sacrifice and the resurrection is our sacrifice and connection with YHVH.
- All that believe and that accept Jesus; his life, words, death and resurrection; and live according to what he said, it is saved and are children of YHVH.
- Jesus will return to recover his Church (true believers) someday to himself.
- Jesus will govern the Earth and then it will create a celestial Kingdom after 1000 years.

Now, I never saw YHVH create the Earth or Universe. I never saw Adam and Eve sin in the garden and never got to see Jesus walk the Earth, preach, crucified or resurrected, but I believe that it all happened, and I accept that. That is called Faith.

Having faith in an ideal should cause the believer to assume certain characteristics. Faith in Jesus causes those characteristics and it is not by inculcation, but by wanting to become better children of YHVH. Being forgiven and sin free caused these changes in me:

I was shown that the profanity was offensive and stopped using it. Prior, I used language that could make a sailor blush.

I have found that people act the way that they do because of their sinful nature, consequently, I cannot hate them. I have to love the sinner and to hate the sin. Consequently, I can forgive people for their transgressions toward me. Before Jesus, I was never this way.

There are other things that Jesus has shown me about my previous life and has used to convert me from a human animalistic nature to a follower of Jesus and a son of the Omnipotent God, but we are not here to discuss my biography.

So, you see, together with faith, there has to be evidence of that faith. For the Muslim, it is bowing toward Mecca three times per day, reading the Koran and making pilgrimages. For other religions, perhaps to pray for the dead relatives, burning incense, abstaining from meat of certain animals. There is a variety of ways that devout people of the world's religions show their faith through their actions.

We will look now at the religion of Evolution and we will see why it is a religion. Some of these things are expanded duplications of the belief system of Evolution that I illustrated a few pages above:

- 1. They believe that the universe began with a big bang that didn't have any source of ignition and made the whole universe from itself, although nobody saw this happen and there really is not any believable evidence.*
- 2. They believe that the life began by chance on Earth when the correct minerals created the correct amino acids to form molecules of DNA. Due to the DNA, the life was formed. Again, nobody was there to see this, and there is no evidence of this, but it is believed.*
- 3. They believe that although 99.9 percent of mutations are harmful, deadly or it doesn't cause any significant change, these same mutations caused a countless number of jumps in evolution that created beings that didn't come from their own type. This is believed without evidence and no index fossils have been found to prove this claim.*
- 4. They believe that the humanity and monkeys [Sapiens and Simians] have a common ancestor although no evidence has been shown that it can be proven.*
- 5. Finally, they believe that the humanity and monkeys have a common ancestor although no evidence has been shown that it can be proven.*

My good friends, I have to declare that due to the things illustrated, evolution is a faith. To me, it takes more faith to believe that all the things that I see around me happened by chance and not by an intelligent creator. However, I am now a mature adult and I cannot believe in fairy tales.

Remember how I expressed that when I discarded my old life and accepted Jesus as my personal savior, some of my characteristics changed. This also happens when people believe in evolution:

- 1. The value of life tends to be diminished because in the stead of being created by a sacred God, we are reduced to just animals.*
- 2. Because there is no concept of God, there are no morals or values. This tends to make the adherent narcissistic and perhaps godlike unto himself. Because God is eliminated, there is no need for laws because there is no accountability. Because there are no absolutes in society, all things, whether good or bad are relativistic.*
- 3. Strangely enough, in societies where the Judeo-Christian ethic has been banished, those societies turn to eastern style religions and occult practices.*
- 4. Since evolution dictates that only fit creatures survive, all avenues can be explored in order to survive. The weak, and handicapped can be classified as not fit to survive. Hitler used this in his excuse to kill Jews and Christians during World War Two.*

As somebody once said, “the more people think that we evolved from monkeys, the more they begin acting as them.” [Author unknown]

You could be wondering why I am so interested that evolution is a faith. There is well, a good reason. Evolution is presented as a fact, although it is still a theory. Look at an article in the newspaper when they have an article concerning evolution. The papers never print; “Scientists Speculate,” but it will always be presented as if what is printed is cold hard fact. Any speculation that is done in the article usually occurs farther down in the article. The media knows that people only read the first third of an article.

Second, the evolution theory is being taught in almost every public school, as a fact. The schools bring in innocent children and they are filling their brains full of garbage, presenting evolution in the same light as established historical facts. We are losing a whole generations of children to an a socialist world order.

Evolution Will Soon Evolve again:

The contemporary evolution theory (Darwinism) has been attacked from all sides. Scientists know that the theory is becoming redundant and they’re discovering that they are spending much time fixing holes that Creationist are shooting in their armor. Really, they have been shot in the foot several times. They have pushed the origin of life time scale back so far that they really can’t justify regressing it any farther. There are honest and credible creation scientists that present realities that are beginning to make sense to many people. I believe that the evolutionists know that they have to change their story soon, or they will lose the whole game.

You could ask why these people who are supposed to be looking for the truth, would cover their stories with so many lies and such deception. There are several reasons why:

- 1. Most of the scientists are full of pride and I think that it would be probably easier to cover up an error instead of admitting to one.*
- 2. Let's not forget about grant money. Most scientific investigation is funded by the government and the government likes results. The result of the research brings more grants so whether the results are true or false, they are results none the less.*
- 3. The fear of losing status or position is another reason to skirt around to the truth. I have heard stories of several very educated people that know the truth, but they refuse to teach it because they will lose their work or reputation.*
- 4. Then there is the mother of all the reasons. If a scientist was to admit that evolution it is wrong, and creation is then correct they would be confronted with a code of moral and ethics. They would have to admit that they are sinners and would have to accept that they need a redeemer. It is sad that pride can really enter the way.*

Evolution in its present form seems to be a failure and the science is running quickly out of ideas to keep it alive. They are fighting to keep it alive and reaching in the dark for ideas to do so. The answer to that is easier than it seems. Evolution will have to mix ever so slowly into another belief system that people can accept and that belief system has to be popular enough to keep it alive for a long time.

Back in the 1990's an article came out in the news that a meteorite had been found and that it was from Mars. Supposedly, sometime in the distant past Mars was struck by a large celestial body, perhaps a comet or asteroid. Material was ejected out into space and somehow some of it landed in Antarctica. It was suggested that they were compounds in the stone that could suggest that the life once existed once on the Red Planet. With this article, it was suggested ever so slightly that life didn't evolve on Earth but came here from another world.

There are many in the UFO and the metaphysical world that believe that the humanity is the result of genetic manipulation by an extraterrestrial race or races. Those in the UFO community talk about this with the same fervor that Christians talk about Jesus when they get together. To them, it is not a theory, but an established fact. There are certain elements in the metaphysical community that claim to channel (get messages from) the masters of the universe that this thought collaborates with the UFO camp. As a matter of fact, many of the personalities that are channeled claim to be from other star systems and or galaxies.

What I believe is that evolutionists in the future will have to cling to that notion to keep their dream alive. Considering everything, it would help explain some of the holes, as to lost fossil links that they have been looking for so diligently for so many years. The UFO community has accepted the myth that such beings are much more advanced than human beings. If the evolutionists were to accept that there are such beings (and I believe that many of them do) then they could accept the notion that the Earth is a big zoological park and that we are the animals. After all, evolutionists already consider us animals since according to them we have evolved of them.

Finally, when the lie is believed that we are only animals that need to be kept and nurtured, the keepers will then return. The sad but true fact is that they are not aliens, but fallen angels that have been deceiving man and attempting to usurp authority of YHVH for thousands of years. They will enter with the guise that they are here to help mankind in an evolution to a higher conscience, but their intent is to enslave mankind to their leader Satan. The Anti-Messiah will have his Kingdom for a short time on the Earth.

But there is some big news in all this gloom and doom. The Kingdom of Satan here on Earth it is only one short time. Jesus Christ, the true King of Kings and Lord of Lords will return to battle with the Beast and Jesus never loses!

So, you can continue believing the lies of evolution if you want, that certainly is your right, but you will be judged a fool in the age to come. After everything, YHVH prophesied what evolutionists would be like as illustrated in 2 Timothy 3:1-9

“But mark this; There will be terrible times in the last days. People will be lovers of themselves, lovers of money, boastful, proud, abusive, disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, unholy, without love, unforgiving, slanderous, without self-control, brutal, not lovers of the good, treacherous, rash, conceited, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God – having a form of godliness but denying its power. Have nothing to do with them. They are the kind who worm their way into homes and gain control over weak-willed women, who are loaded down with sins and are swayed by all kinds of evil desires, always learning but never able to acknowledge the truth. Just as Jannes and Jambres opposed Moses, so also these men oppose the truth – for men of depraved minds who as far as the faith is concerned are rejected. But they will not get very far because as in the case of those men, their folly will be clear to everyone.”

If you have read this and it has touched your heart in a positive way I applaud you. If you are an evolutionist that now believes that you have wandered, and you want to get things right with the Creator, you should do two things. Above everything, you should go to my website, The Delusion Resistance where you will find a page that explains how you can survive in this world of decay and trouble. Coming to Jesus is very easy and rewarding. Then, you can go to some of the other pages that explain things much better than I can. Koinonia House, which was founded by the late Chuck Missler can help you out immensely.

If you are that an evolutionist and you still doubt the truth of Jesus then know this; I pray for people like you every day. YHVH will show you the truth if you will be honest enough to search for Him, he will help you in His revelation. I really hope you make the correct and sensible decision.

CHAPTER THREE

NEW AGE EVOLUTION – MEET THE INDIGO CHILDREN

What I'm about to write about has interested me for quite a while. I've always paid attention to the definitions that the New Age (Old Lie) gives to phenomena that it deems important. It's always good to know what your adversary is up to. By adversary, I am not addressing the people who adhere to New Age philosophy, but to the author of the New Age, or what it really is; the old lie. That author is Lucifer (Satan) and in the spirit realm he has little publishing houses throughout the world that are commonly known as demons. These publishing houses disseminate information to earthly publishing houses; mainly those who adhere to and promote New Age philosophy; whether they be psychics, channelers or just the owner of an occult book store or the New Age adherent who preaches his or her false gospel to people who aren't firmly grounded in the truth. As believers in the true Messiah, Yeshua; we have to recognize that the common run of the mill New Age believer is a pawn that has unwittingly been duped into believing a lie. They are no different than all of us were before we came to faith in Yeshua. Some even claim to have once been believers in Yeshua, but like the seed that falls on shallow ground, they soon wither when times get hard or when they see other believers in mortal frailty.

It should be no surprise to anyone that so many people run to the New Age for answers. The Church by and large has refused to address issues that became prevalent in the 20th and 21st centuries. For instance, when evolution raised its ugly head in the mid 19th century the church pretty well ignored it. If the subject was brought up then, or even as late as the 1970's the person asking the question was basically told that the premise of evolution was evil or that perhaps it was a passing fad.

I was presented the same explanation back in the 70's when I asked about evolution. Well, for me that wasn't a good enough explanation and I felt that if the "religious" people couldn't explain why evolution was bad or why I should avoid it then I would explore evolution itself. This led to a few years of confusion and my adherence to the evolution lie. It is important, when explaining the dangers of anything that a complete explanation be presented. For instance, if a child tries to reach up to the stove to touch a hot pot and an adult just tells them not to do it, it only piques the curiosity. Human nature causes that child to want to touch the pot to see why the adult was so adamant about them not touching it. I speak from my own experience, so I know. But, if the parent sits the child down and tells them that should they touch the pot, they will get burned, that it will hurt a great deal and that it will take a few days of hurting before it heals then the child will know why they shouldn't touch the pot.

When a Christian is presented with a question by another believer, a searcher or anyone for that matter about the subjects of deception; UFO's, evolution, the occult or anything else, they should be prepared to either answer the question, or to forward that person to an authoritative figure in the matter. Someday you'll probably run into a New Age person and if they have had any brush with Christianity, they will tell you that they didn't get the answers to the questions that they had. And, most of the time they'll tell you that their questions weren't about love, faith or hope; but they'll tell you that something bizarre happened to them, or that they had been thinking about a subject that Christians or the Church could not answer. And why couldn't they answer those questions? Well, it was simply because the subject dealt with something that Christians ignored or refused to talk about because it was not in the status quo of Christian thought.

My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee.... Hosea 4:6

Now I'll be the first to acknowledge that the scripture above is talking to the Jewish people of Hosea's time. But, there are implications for the Church of Messiah Yeshua where this is concerned. A lack of knowledge of the sins of this world and the weirdness that is going on all over the globe will turn around to bite the Church in the backside.

First, we need to know how the deceptive ways of the enemy will try to come directly against the Church. The extraterrestrial agenda is a perfect way to illustrate this premise. Back in the late 1940's and the 1950's anyone who professed interest in the UFO phenomena was deemed a bit off center, perhaps on the fringe element of society. The mere mention of the subject brought about raised eyebrows by the listeners and ridicule of the person bringing up the subject. In church, if the subject was dared presented the person presenting it was deemed to be dabbling in the occult or perhaps they were thought to be demonized. And this was simply done at the suggestion of the possibility of extraterrestrial life being a possibility. The Church didn't present valid answers, they just offered jest and confusion.

All throughout my short 47 years here on earth it seems that the Church in large has refused to address the issue of UFO's and extraterrestrials. Why? Well, simply because it's too controversial. Oh, if we bring that up some of the people might leave the church and never come back. Well, the Church is supposed to be like her maker, YHVH, Yeshua Ha Mashiach who brought up controversy all throughout the Bible. Yeshua was a walking controversy while he lived here on Earth and wherever He went it seems that contentions arose. And why did controversy arise? Well, it was because He challenged the "religious" of his day. He presented ideas that sounded foreign to the Jewish leaders and to a lot of the people who had been indoctrinated by those believers. So why should His Church be any different. Is it because the money might dry up? Is it because people would go to other churches? Is it because it would make some people feel uncomfortable? I feel in my heart of hearts that Yeshua didn't allow those things to fog His judgment, so neither should we. I'm not saying that we should adopt strange ideas, but we should know about those things so that we can minister to those who do adhere to those things or have questions about them.

I would be willing to bet that any person reading this, should they conduct a secret poll of ten believers in your church, would find out that at least half of them believe that we're not alone in the universe. That should be troubling to everyone because it shows how New Age philosophy has infiltrated into the Body of Messiah.

The second way that a lack of knowledge will destroy YHVH's people is by infiltration. Anyone who's ever lived in an older house will be able to relate to infiltration. Having been raised in a cold climate I am aware of how cold can enter a house and make one's life miserable. Before wintertime we would go throughout the house and look for air leaks. Weather-stripping would be replaced around doors and windows as winter approached. The attic insulation would be checked very carefully. We would install plastic around the windows to insulate against the cold. We even insulated around the electrical plugs and switches in the walls to keep cold air from coming in. It was quite an involved process.

Older houses are even worse because they're usually not insulated as well as the newer homes. Because of that, cold air could come through the floor, the walls and even from the ceiling. While the house in general was protection from the snow and most of the wind, cold air always seems to come in and make for a larger utility bill or cold nights. The modern Church is like an old house. It stands on a firm foundation and guards against the wind and cold, but because it refuses to insulate against bizarre doctrine, some cold air, in the way of strange beliefs, comes in which creates cold places in the Church. The UFO phenomena is like the cold coming in through the floor of the old house. The Church could go under the building and insulate it, but fear of spiders, bugs and dark confined spaces cripples the keepers of the Church from going there to guard against the problem. So, the problem persists while the Church denies that there are problems and every year people by the score pick up a little more of the cold, many being in danger of getting hypothermia and dying in false doctrine.

Anyway, with all of this in out in the open I will start a study on a group of individuals that the New Age refers to as Indigo Children. The first information is actually something that I pulled from Wikipedia and it mirrors what I read on sites dedicated to Indigo Children.

Indigo children

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Indigo children is a term used within the New Age movement to refer to children who claim or who are believed to possess certain special psychological and spiritual attributes.

*The Indigo Child concept was first publicized by the book The Indigo Children: The New Kids Have Arrived, written by the husband-and-wife team of Lee Carroll and Jan Tober. Carroll insists that the concept was obtained via conversations with a spiritual entity known as Kryon. The reason for the use of the adjective “indigo” is not universally agreed upon. Some sources link it with an early researcher into the phenomenon, who was synesthetic. It has also been claimed that these children appear with an indigo-hued aura.*

The Environment and Evolution

The Indigo Child movement states that the children in question are born with an empathic connection to Earth and others’ thoughts. However, due to natural limits in infant communication, Indigo Children’s supposed abilities (empathy, telepathy, extra-sensory perception and extra-normal perception) are often suppressed by negative parental or societal influence. The Indigo Child movement therefore encourages parents to support those children in whom can be seen traits which are often labeled as negative by mainstream authorities but as positive by Indigo Child theorists. Many Indigo Child theory supporters believe that these traits can also be brought out in non-Indigos, but that Indigo Children are predisposed to them thanks to an evolutionary advantage.

Characteristics

Carroll and Tober identify ten attributes that describe the Indigo Child:

- They come into the world with a feeling of royalty (and often act like it).
- They have a feeling of “deserving to be here,” and are surprised when others do not share that.
- Self-worth is not a big issue; they often tell the parents “who they are.” They have difficulty with absolute authority (authority without explanation or choice).
- They simply will not do certain things; for example, waiting in line is difficult for them.
- They get frustrated with systems that are ritually oriented and do not require creative thought.
- They often see better ways of doing things, both at home and in school, which makes them seem like “system busters” (non-conforming to any system).
- They seem antisocial unless they are with their own kind. If there are no others of like consciousness around them, they often turn inward, feeling like no other human understands them. School is often extremely difficult for them socially.
- They will not respond to “guilt” discipline (“Wait till your father gets home and finds out what you did”).
- They are not shy in letting it be known what they need.

In her article Indigo Children: What’s an Indigo Child?? Wendy H. Chapman

(enlightenment teacher at and Director of Metagifted Education Resource Organization)

says that Indigo Children will also display many of the following:

- Have strong self esteem, connection to source
- Have an obvious sense of self

- Refuse to follow orders or directions
- Get bored rather easily with assigned tasks
- Are rather creative
- Display strong intuition
- Have strong empathy for others or NO empathy
- Develop abstract thinking very young
- Are gifted and/or talented, highly intelligent
- Are often identified or suspected of having ADHD
- Are frequent daydreamers
- Have very old, deep, wise looking eyes
- Have spiritual intelligence and/or psychic skills

Some critics believe that these traits are not unique and are observable in most children, but adherents believe that this new type of child has come forward for a reason; most often suggested is that they will improve the world in some way. The changes generally discussed involve bringing peace, toppling corrupt institutions, and a shift from allopathic medicine to a greater understanding of more natural alternatives. Indigo Children are said to be more in touch with something called the Universal Truth, and do not tolerate or understand behaviors or systems that are not in harmony with it.

Indigo Children are sometimes said to possess an extreme longevity but given the birth dates above the source of this belief is unknown.

Indigo Abilities:

Many discussions of Indigo Children in new-age literature (including Kryon literature) claim that Indigo Children are born with part of their DNA activated that most people do not have activated. Some claim that it is junk DNA that they utilize to “swap out” higher-dimensional information, giving them special abilities.

These abilities are said to include purging HIV, advanced genius and psychic/telekinetic powers (See Indigo Children – Crystalline Children and The Indigo Crystal “Human Angel”) speaking to the dead.

‘April’ Children

As the Indigo movement began in the early 80’s, a related phenomenon called ‘April Children’ was being reported in Greece. Greek journalist Kostas Hardavelas announced that the University of Athens showed some unusual interest in children specifically born during April of 1983. The University is said to have sought them in schools and performed interviews and surveys without further information or notification to the public. Hardavelas produced a documentary about the interviewees, promoting the view that these children had high IQ, mental abilities, peculiar dreams and spiritual experiences. In the absence of specific data about the key players and their aims within the University, the documentary posits the theory that connects the apparent anomaly to some cosmic event (planetary alignment or excessive solar activity).

Speculation about the children born during April 1983 is based on information from a book and articles written by Greek science-fiction and conspiracy theory author Ioannis Fourakis. Fourakis believes that the ‘April Children’ have a mark on their skin, and that they will play some important role in the future in accordance with his theories of Ellinokentrismos.

Non-mystic interpretations

Some critics feel that it is possible to use the traits assigned to Indigo Children as an observation of social trends, rather than as a signifier of a new race or form of consciousness. One such trend is more and more children are viewing magical/mystical TV shows and media that use new-age interpretable language. Coupled with how children feed off the media in their own natural fantasy play, such mystical make-believe could be unintentionally falsely re-interpreted as signs of preternatural knowledge, maturity or “higher consciousness”.

An example of this emerged in a 2006 article in the Dallas Observer which covered the Indigo Child phenomenon. The reporter observed an 8-year-old boy named Dusk quizzed by a man on his “Indigo” status:

“Are you an indigo?” he asked Dusk. The boy looked at him shyly and nodded. “I’m an avatar,” Dusk said. “I can recognize the four elements of earth, wind, water and fire. The next avatar won’t come for 100 years.” The man seemed impressed.

However, readers of the Dallas Observer pointed out in letters to the editor that Dusk may have been drawing on the Nickelodeon children’s show Avatar: The Last Airbender. This highly-rated television show features a twelve-year old boy who is the reincarnation of the Avatar Spirit, has the power to manipulate (or “bend”) earth, wind, water and fire, and was once frozen in suspended animation for one hundred years. These similarities were not noted within the article, and the editor of the Dallas Observer later admitted they were not aware of the connection until several readers brought it to their attention.

Criticism and scientific investigation

Skeptics point out that proponents of the Indigo movement lack verifiable evidence to support their claims. Indigo literature frequently talks about “University studies” and “interested scientists,” however scientists such as Russell Barkley, a research professor of psychiatry, have stated, “There’s no science behind it. There are no studies.” Barkley has also expressed concern that labelling a disruptive child an “Indigo” may delay proper diagnosis and treatment that may help them.

Indigo Children are often the offspring of New Age parents. Exposed to New Age thinking, it might be taken as unsurprising that the children possess a greater fluency of spiritual language than earlier generations. Having been told that the vast majority of children are now Indigos, New Age parents in fear of suppressing this special generation may be encouraging antisocial behaviors. It is said that many of the traits identifying Indigo Children could simply be interpreted as simple arrogance and selfish individualism when viewed from a very specific viewpoint.

Just as many people tend towards astrology because it presents believers with simple, complimentary accounts of themselves, critics of the Indigo Child concept claim that parents relate to the hypothesis because it provides a more flattering conclusion about their child than current mainstream psychological descriptions that are popular among most parents, such as ADHD or Asperger's Syndrome. Indigo Child is not a recognized term in the field of psychology, although some of the authors of Indigo literature have degrees in psychology; one reason for this might be that the concept of Indigo children is relatively new.

Critics have also voiced concern that teaching children that they are Indigo will encourage children to adopt sociopathic behaviors, such as a sense of human superiority, alienation, and a "bizarre" paranormal identity.

Education

Educators, generally, have not embraced the Indigo Child supposition; many educators are not even aware of the Indigo child movement. Some alternative educators have accepted the Indigo concept and have related their mission to the needs of Indigo Children. Philosophies that resonate with Indigos' style of learning may include experiential education, multiple intelligence strategies, project-based learning, unschooling, and student-centered learning.

What the Indigo Children Phenomenon seems to be is a self-fulfilling prophecy. I do not like quoting Oprah Winfrey, but since she has her stake in the New Age I find it fittingly appropriate to quote her when she says, "You don't become what you want, you become what you believe." The Church has taken on the same air with their "name it and claim it," mentality. Yes, it is true that all that Indigo Children are is psychopaths in the making, but by believing that they are the next stage in evolution they will become the next stage in a "perceived" evolution. They have opened up doors to all kinds of demonic presences and possession. When a society throws out rational Judeo/Christian morality then they in essence cast away the blessings that come with that morality, opening up the floodgates to a demonic presence that the world has never seen before. There is however another beast that is rising up, a merging of two insidious beasts that will join with the fantasy of the Indigo Children to play havoc with the entire world.

CHAPTER FOUR

EVOLUTION MEETS IT'S OWN EVOLUTION

Sorry to continue with a side note, but I feel it's necessary and very important. With the advent of the UFO craze, there started the courtship of two very sinister concoctions. We all know that the modern phase of Darwinian Evolution started back in the 19th century and was raised to the attention of the general populace with Darwin's book "On the Origin of Species by Means of Natural Selection, or the Preservation of Favoured Races in the Struggle for Life." His book was the birth of a new way of thinking, akin to the birth of a Frankenstein Monster.

Slowly but surely the book and conjecture took on converts, many times coming against mediocre resistance from a Church that didn't know exactly how to battle what it thought was lunacy that would soon pass away like many other oddball ideas had in the past. You know the drill, "ignore it and it will go away." Well, the Church was dead wrong. Evolution started to make inroads in the institutions of higher learning and it was indoctrinated the minds of many who in turn preached the false gospel to many others, sort of like the domino effect of Communism that everyone feared for seventy years. Finally, when the Church started to lose parishioners to evolutionary thought it woke up and started quite a quick and fairly successful fight against the multiheaded monster of the beast. And, I'm happy to report that the beast does have a very serious wound. But I have to say, that it can and is currently evolving into a different beast, and it is merging with another beast to become a super beast.

The other beast I mention is the beast of the Extraterrestrial Agenda. Ever since its inception, the Extraterrestrial Agenda has promoted that there are life forms on other worlds. First the self-proclaimed extraterrestrials said that they came from other worlds in our solar system, but when we started to explore those worlds and noticed that they were barren and uninhabitable the “space brothers” changed their story and placed their civilizations just far enough out of reach to make their lie hard to disprove; places like Orion, Draco and the Pleiades. At first, they said that they were coming to earth just to observe humans. Then the story changed, and they said that they were here to keep us from destroying ourselves. Finally, the story evolved into their claim that they are really our progenitors and that they are here to help us change, and to help us evolve into a higher form of being. Sounds like the classic line when caught in a lie, the liar says, “what I really meant was...” Can you see the beast starting to rise up yet?

Darwinian Evolution is dying a horrible death. Inaccuracies are being discovered all of the time and some scientists have come to faith in Yeshua and they have pointed out many more bullet wounds in the troubled theory. What do liars do when they are faced with their own lie in the plain sight of everyone? Well, they make another lie to cover up their old lie, and they explain it away in some sort of fashion. For instance, back in the 1990’s, then President Clinton made a claim that he never had sexual relations with Monica Lewinsky. When it became apparent through evidence that Mr. Clinton did formally have relations with Ms. Lewinsky, the story was distorted. First, he tried to make it seem like Ms. Lewinsky forced herself on him and he just couldn’t resist. Then, in a final effort to save his bacon (no pun intended), he tried to change the definition of what actual sex is. Figuring that “actual penetration with sexual organs” was the only real term for sex he tried to distort the claims that were being made against him. Then when under examination for impeachment he even tried to distort the meaning of common English words to worm his way out of his dilemma. Well, fortunately, people didn't buy it; at least the sane ones.

What does an evolutionist do when it seems that evolution is dying, and you have to save the patient at all costs? Well, you do anything you can do to stop the death process. You see, the New Age has always found evolution to be true in their estimation. Founded on Eastern Mysticism, they adhere to reincarnation, which is nothing but a fancy word for evolution of one's spirit until a person reaches Nirvana, or perfection. In what is almost always an endless series of countless lives by each spirit, perfection is finally reached according to their doctrine. The sad fact is that Nirvana is never attainable. The extraterrestrial agenda has also adopted this notion. They promote the idea that they are here to aid us by stepping up to our next ladder rung of evolutionary progression. Of course, they are promoting this evolutionary progression as one that is spiritual. They have to make this step a spiritual one because no physical evolution has ever happened nor is it currently happening and so it will have to be something that they say has happened but has no real physical evidence.

Many Darwinian Evolutionists, faced with the stark realization that physical evolution (macro-evolution) is not a viable explanation for all life on earth will have to adopt the extraterrestrial explanation for origins of life on earth. The only other choice that they have would be to admit that there was a creator and that would eventually lead to the admission that Yeshua is YHVH; the creator of the universe. Granted, some will come to that realization, but the majority; those who can't bend a knee and acknowledge accountability to a living God will accept the lie that "space brothers" created life on earth and are tending us like a shepherd tends sheep. But if the evolutionists and those in the extraterrestrial camp were correct (which they are not) then someone would have had to create the extraterrestrials, and so on and so forth.

Somewhere down the road, there would have had to have been a creator of all things. All that the extraterrestrial origin theory does is push back the inevitable fact that there was a creator. And just like they moved their home planet location to Orion, Draco and the Pleiades to keep the truth just out of reach; they have pushed back the subject of origins to make it look so far back into antiquity that it makes it seem unsearchable.

No Physical Proof? Then Make It Spiritual.

What does a person or a group do when they aren't accountable to the Ruach Ha Kodesh, and they can't prove something in the physical realm? Well, they make it spiritual of course. The same lie that accounts for the Indigo Children being a special "spiritual" evolutionary phenomena has been played out for years. One good example would be the Jehovah's Witness' spiritualizing the second coming of Messiah. For many years they preached that the Second Coming of Messiah would be in or around 1914. They proclaimed that Armageddon would occur at that time and would usher in the Second Coming. Well, 1914 came and went as did the years around that year and Yeshua never came back and Armageddon never occurred. So, in an effort to save face, they then had a "divine revelation" that Yeshua's second coming did in fact occur, but that it was an invisible spiritual second coming. Sorry, but when Yeshua returns, it's not going to be by some divine twelve step plan, but it will be as He said it would be, "all eyes will see him."

Part of the New Age doctrine is the premise that people won't so much be changed on the outside, but that they will experience a rebirth inside. This of course is a counterfeit of the Biblical doctrine that Yeshua proclaimed, that a person has to be Born Again before they can see the Kingdom of Heaven. Knowing that Satan has never had an original idea during his whole existence we know that he'll try to imitate in a corrupt manner, everything that YHVH has instituted for the sake of holiness. When a person comes to Yeshua and accepts by faith that his/her sins are forgiven by the sacrifice that Yeshua made on the cross, they become a new creature. Now, we see no physical change for the most part. But we do see the inner man renewed; made into a new creature. When this happens, old habits die, sin isn't fun anymore and we have the Ruach Ha Kodesh inside of us showing us right from wrong and revealing the truth of YHVH to our soul and spirit. A year after I came to faith in Yeshua I still looked the same as I did before my new life. Part of my demeanor caused an outward appearance in that I smiled more, and my parts were used for righteousness rather than for sin, like they were before; but my visage was basically the same.

The Luciferic Initiation is basically the equivalent to YHVH's "born again" experience. In some writings their initiation is referred to as a "born again" phenomena. So, it stands to reason that if the Ruach Ha Kodesh comes to inhabit the Messianic believer; the spirit of antichrist must be what comes to indwell those who chose the New Age; it can be no other way.

With that idea fresh in our minds, we have to surmise that if those who come to faith in Yeshua are referred to as "sons of YHVH" then the believers in the New Age would adopt the same title for themselves; worshipping a false Christ, promulgated by a false gospel. We come to faith in Messiah Yeshua and when we procreate we teach our children the way that they should go and pray that someday they will accept Yeshua as their salvation too. But it is their choice and they don't become Christian or Messianic because they are born into it. Many cultures are deceived by this assumption. I once worked with an Armenian lady who thought she was a Christian because she was born in what she called a “Christian Nation;” that being Armenia.

Well the same assumption can be made by a child born in a taxi, thinking that they are destined to be a taxi driver, or a child born in a bagel shop; thinking he or she was a bagel.

The New Age carries this absurdity to the highest degree. They feel, for the most part, that these Indigo Children are being born to people who are involved in the New Age. The ones who aren't born to New Age parents are just some sort of lucky individuals who the universe happens to think worthy of the so-called blessing; this so called spiritual evolution.

But What About Those Attributes?

Just jump back one chapter to review some of the attributes that these supposed blessings from nature (Indigo Children) seem to have. I think that we can all connect with some if not many of these attributes. I for one hated standing in line when I was a kid, and sometimes still do. I questioned authority a lot when I was younger and sometimes still do. Most children come into the world feeling like royalty, like they are more special than the other children around them. I felt that way until my father's belt taught me otherwise. I've never liked ritual, especially when it comes to religious service. I've always thought of better ways of doing things. Most children that I've encountered, including myself when I was a child, are antisocial. Most children when first taken to the playground have to be introduced to other kids and sometimes coaxed into participating. School was difficult for me socially and there were times that I turned inward because I really didn't want to be a jock and I didn't want to be a Brainiac either. Most kids are vocal in what they want. Just follow any mother with children when she is in a supermarket and they get near the candy or toy aisles. All you'll hear is the mother telling the child that they can't have this or that and she'll repeat it until the allure of the items is no longer in view. I'd say that 90+ percent of children act that way in a supermarket; and the ones who don't have probably been disciplined for their actions previously.

The word "discipline" is the whole crux of the matter. YHVH gives us parents to lead and guide us as we're growing up. Of course, we have to hope and pray that the parents that we have care enough to guide us and provide correction when it is needed. Nobody likes standing in line, but patience is obtained by standing in line. Friends can be made standing in line too. The person in front and back probably hate standing in line too and it is a good way to break the ice, talking about the line. Authority is not a bad thing if it is a good authority; one that can be understanding and teaching. By submitting to good authority, we learn how to become good authorities ourselves.

Ritualism isn't a bad thing, especially if the ritual consists of bathing every morning, brushing one's teeth and putting on the deodorant. Ritual is good if it involves getting up and going to work every morning so that one can be a decent and productive member of society. So certain rituals, although they can sometimes become mundane, are both acceptable and necessary.

There's nothing wrong in finding easier ways of doing things. But, one has to know the hard ways in order to know how the easier ways work. For instance, when me and my peers were in high school way back in the 1970's we were not allowed to use calculators in class. That really bugged me a lot because calculators helped me a great deal. When I was frustrated I asked the teacher why he had what seemed like such a stringent rule against the electronic devices. The teacher told me that he wanted me to know how to do the math when a calculator wasn't handy. He presented to me a scenario where I would be in a very important business meeting and would forget my calculator. I would not have a chance to obtain one and needed to know how to do figures on paper. Since I knew the deeper things of mathematics I would be able to figure things out on paper and close the deal with the people I was working with. When it was explained to me it made perfect sense and I accepted it. So, there is always a good reason for us to know how to do things the hard way and practicing that is not a fault in our character, but asset to it. It will be interesting to see what might happen if our nation comes under attack from an EMP (Electro-Magnetic Pulse) from a Nuclear weapon exploded high in the atmosphere. Imagine if you will all of the narcissists, sociopaths and psychopaths with no electronics. They are already defunct in common survival practices, heck, they cannot even change a car tire. Just wait until they can't surf the net or use their cellphones.

And more on discipline. When I was a child I hated making new friends. My parents knew this, especially my mother. She sent me to the YMCA to learn how to swim and I had interaction with other kids there. Then she got me involved with the Cub Scouts and I made friends there. In school she encouraged me to get involved in chorus and that is where I got my appreciation for music. My parents encouraged me in many things, and I'm not ashamed to say that there were times when they had to be a bit forceful. But you know what? It is because of those things that I can walk up to just about anyone and strike up a conversation. I can make friends pretty easy and I'm a social person. Had they not disciplined me in those things I would have been a slug that never left the house. And look at a lot of the kids today; many of them not wanting to leave the house and fearful of being social; playing video games and watching television all day long. It's a sad state of affairs, but there's hope. Almost all of the kids in my generation went to the store with our mothers announcing that we wanted things that we really didn't need. But we were given correction, stern and swift, which meant that it really didn't happen again. My mother still laughs at how after my sister and I received correction from her and my father, all she would have to do in a store after that was to squeeze my hand and I would behave. Sometimes just a stern glare would do the trick. There's nothing wrong with that, is there? I think not. But many in my generation and the generations that followed never got correct discipline. This can be seen today as having carried over into adulthood. People have gotten themselves in debt up to their eyeballs simply because they're adults now and they don't have anyone squeezing their hands and telling them no.

Of course, there are other aspects of the Indigo Children that all of us have experienced as children. So, as for these kids being special, or some sort of newly evolved form of human being, I have to say that it is all a bunch of bovine scatology. The only difference is that where our parents taught us discipline (or at least tried to) in some sense or degree The parents of the so called special children are told not to discipline their offspring. I constantly apologize to the younger generations for the way that my generation has helped to mess up the world. But, imagine how messed up the world would be right now if none of our parents had whacked us on the behind for inappropriate behavior simply because they thought us to be some specially evolved entities. Well, we won't have to imagine too long because when these Indigo Children grow up they will fill the world with spoiled rotten psychopathic deviates and we'll get to see it first-hand and probably suffer from it likewise.

The Bible Prophesied Indigo Children Types:

It shouldn't come as too much a surprise that the text of the Bible talks about the Last Days, and how people will be at that (this) time.

This know also, that in the last days perilous times shall come. For men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, Without natural affection, trucebreakers, false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good, Traitors, heady, highminded, lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God; Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away. For of this sort are they which creep into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with sins, led away with divers lusts, Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth. Now as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also resist the truth: men of corrupt minds, reprobate concerning the faith. But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be manifest unto all men, as their's also was. 2 Timothy 3:1-9

The little list below is made to show how the descriptions used to illustrate the so-called improvements on human evolution is really in sync with what Timothy said in his epistle. But, instead of espousing the New Age description as something good, Timothy shows how these things show a declination toward psychopathic behavior exhibited by anyone who tries to exalt mankind over YHVH. Care should also be taken to remember that one attribute can exist with another and that although not all of the behaviors mentioned in 2 Timothy are highlighted, the behaviors that are can lead to the behaviors which are not highlighted are possible with continued practice of the ones that are highlighted.

Lovers of their own selves:

- They come into the world with a feeling of royalty (and often act like it).
- They have a feeling of “deserving to be here,” and are surprised when others do not share that.
- Have an obvious sense of self.
- Have strong self-esteem, connection to source

Boasters:

- They often see better ways of doing things, both at home and in school, which makes them seem like “system busters” (non-conforming to any system). Note: This can often lead to boasting as evidenced in my own childhood demeanor

Proud:

- They come into the world with a feeling of royalty (and often act like it).
- They often see better ways of doing things, both at home and in school, which makes them seem like “system busters” (non-conforming to any system).

Disobedient to Parents:

- Self-worth is not a big issue; they often tell the parents “who they are.”
- They have difficulty with absolute authority (authority without explanation or choice).
- They will not respond to “guilt” discipline (“Wait till your father gets home and finds out what you did”).

- Refuse to follow orders or directions.
- Note: And any other sort of rebellion related to any of the above descriptions.

Without Natural Affection:

- Have strong empathy for others or NO empathy

Heady:

- They often see better ways of doing things, both at home and in school, which makes them seem like “system busters” (non-conforming to any system).
- Are gifted and/or talented, highly intelligent
- Develop abstract thinking very young
- Are rather creative

Highminded:

- They often see better ways of doing things, both at home and in school, which makes them seem like “system busters” (non-conforming to any system).
- They are not shy in letting it be known what they need.
- They have a feeling of “deserving to be here,” and are surprised when others do not share that.

Having a Form of godliness, but denying the power thereof:

- Have spiritual intelligence and/or psychic skills.
- Display strong intuition

Incontinent (without self-control):

- Are often identified or suspected of having ADHD

The Correlation Between Indigo Children and Psychopaths:

The Following was found on the internet at a source It was found on the North Carolina Wesleyan College website. I include it as to show how the behavior of the Indigo Child in many ways parallels psychopathic behavior. The source will be after the text:

DETAILED ANALYSIS OF THE PSYCHOPATH

Psychopaths cannot be understood in terms of antisocial rearing or development. They are simply morally depraved individuals who represent the “monsters” in our society. They are unstoppable and untreatable predators whose violence is planned, purposeful and emotionless. The violence continues until it reaches a plateau at age 50 or so, then tapers off. Their emotionlessness reflects a detached, fearless, and possibly dissociated state, revealing a lower autonomic nervous system and lack of anxiety. It’s difficult to say what motivates them – control and dominance possibly – since their life history will usually show no bonds with others nor much rhyme to their reason (other than the planning of violence). They tend to operate with a grandiose demeanor, an attitude of entitlement, an insatiable appetite, and a tendency toward sadism. Fearlessness is probably the prototypical (core) characteristic (the low-fear hypothesis). It's helpful to think of them as high-speed vehicles with ineffective brakes. Certain organic (brain) disorders and hormonal imbalances mimic the state of mind of a psychopath.

There are four (4) different subtypes of psychopaths. The oldest distinction was made by Cleckley back in 1941 between primary and secondary. However, we'll explore the other two subtypes first:

DISTEMPERED PSYCHOPATHS are the kind that seem to fly into a rage or frenzy more easily and more often than other subtypes. Their frenzy will resemble an epileptic fit. They are also usually men with incredibly strong sex drives, capable of astonishing feats of sexual energy, and seemingly obsessed by sexual urges during a large part of their waking lives. Powerful cravings also seem to characterize them, as in drug addiction, kleptomania, pedophilia, any illicit or illegal indulgence. They like the endorphin "high" or "rush" off of excitement and risk-taking. The serial-rapist-murderer known as the Boston Strangler was such a psychopath.

CHARISMATIC PSYCHOPATHS are charming, attractive liars. They are usually gifted at some talent or another, and they use it to their advantage in manipulating others. They are usually fast-talkers, and possess an almost demonic ability to persuade others out of everything they own, even their lives. Leaders of religious sects or cults, for example, might be psychopaths if they lead their followers to their deaths. This subtype often comes to believe in their own fictions. They are irresistible.

PRIMARY PSYCHOPATHS do not respond to punishment, apprehension, stress, or disapproval. They seem to be able to inhibit their antisocial impulses most of the time, not because of conscience, but because it suits their purpose at the time. Words do not seem to have the same meaning for them as they do for us. In fact, it's unclear if they even grasp the meaning of their own words, a condition that Cleckley called "semantic aphasia." They don't follow any life plan, and it seems as if they are incapable of experiencing any genuine emotion.

SECONDARY PSYCHOPATHS are risk-takers, but are also more likely to be stress-reactive, worriers, and guilt-prone. They expose themselves to more stress than the average person, but they are as vulnerable to stress as the average person. They are daring, adventurous, unconventional people who began playing by their own rules early in life. They are strongly driven by a desire to escape or avoid pain, but are unable to resist temptation. As their anxiety increases toward some forbidden object, so does their attraction to it. They live their lives by the lure of temptation.

Hare's PCL-R 20-item checklist is based on Cleckley's 16-item checklist, and the following is a discussion of the concepts in the PCL-R:

- GLIB and SUPERFICIAL CHARM — the tendency to be smooth, engaging, charming, slick, and verbally facile. Psychopathic charm is not in the least shy, self-conscious, or afraid to say anything. A psychopath never gets tongue-tied. They have freed themselves from the social conventions about taking turns in talking, for example.

- GRANDIOSE SELF-WORTH — a grossly inflated view of one's abilities and self-worth, self-assured, opinionated, cocky, a braggart. Psychopaths are arrogant people who believe they are superior human beings.
- NEED FOR STIMULATION or PRONENESS TO BOREDOM — an excessive need for novel, thrilling, and exciting stimulation; taking chances and doing things that are risky. Psychopaths often have a low self-discipline in carrying tasks through to completion because they get bored easily. They fail to work at the same job for any length of time, for example, or to finish tasks that they consider dull or routine.
- PATHOLOGICAL LYING — can be moderate or high; in moderate form, they will be shrewd, crafty, cunning, sly, and clever; in extreme form, they will be deceptive, deceitful, underhanded, unscrupulous, manipulative, and dishonest.
- CONNING AND MANIPULATIVENESS- the use of deceit and deception to cheat, con, or defraud others for personal gain; distinguished from Item #4 in the degree to which exploitation and callous ruthlessness is present, as reflected in a lack of concern for the feelings and suffering of one's victims.
- LACK OF REMORSE OR GUILT — a lack of feelings or concern for the losses, pain, and suffering of victims; a tendency to be unconcerned, dispassionate, coldhearted, and unempathic. This item is usually demonstrated by a disdain for one's victims.
- SHALLOW AFFECT — emotional poverty or a limited range or depth of feelings; interpersonal coldness in spite of signs of open gregariousness.
- CALLOUSNESS and LACK OF EMPATHY — a lack of feelings toward people in general; cold, contemptuous, inconsiderate, and tactless.

- PARASITIC LIFESTYLE — an intentional, manipulative, selfish, and exploitative financial dependence on others as reflected in a lack of motivation, low self-discipline, and inability to begin or complete responsibilities.
- POOR BEHAVIORAL CONTROLS — expressions of irritability, annoyance, impatience, threats, aggression, and verbal abuse; inadequate control of anger and temper; acting hastily.
- PROMISCUOUS SEXUAL BEHAVIOR — a variety of brief, superficial relations, numerous affairs, and an indiscriminate selection of sexual partners; the maintenance of several relationships at the same time; a history of attempts to sexually coerce others into sexual activity or taking great pride at discussing sexual exploits or conquests.
- EARLY BEHAVIOR PROBLEMS — a variety of behaviors prior to age 13, including lying, theft, cheating, vandalism, bullying, sexual activity, fire-setting, glue-sniffing, alcohol use, and running away from home.
- LACK OF REALISTIC, LONG-TERM GOALS — an inability or persistent failure to develop and execute long-term plans and goals; a nomadic existence, aimless, lacking direction in life.
- IMPULSIVITY — the occurrence of behaviors that are unpremeditated and lack reflection or planning; inability to resist temptation, frustrations, and urges; a lack of deliberation without considering the consequences; foolhardy, rash, unpredictable, erratic, and reckless.
- IRRESPONSIBILITY — repeated failure to fulfill or honor obligations and commitments; such as not paying bills, defaulting on loans, performing sloppy work, being absent or late to work, failing to honor contractual agreements.

- FAILURE TO ACCEPT RESPONSIBILITY FOR OWN ACTIONS — a failure to accept responsibility for one's actions reflected in low conscientiousness, an absence of dutifulness, antagonistic manipulation, denial of responsibility, and an effort to manipulate others through this denial.
- MANY SHORT-TERM MARITAL RELATIONSHIPS — a lack of commitment to a long-term relationship reflected in inconsistent, undependable, and unreliable commitments in life, including marital.
- JUVENILE DELINQUENCY — behavior problems between the ages of 13-18; mostly behaviors that are crimes or clearly involve aspects of antagonism, exploitation, aggression, manipulation, or a callous, ruthless tough-mindedness.
- REVOCAION OF CONDITION RELEASE — a revocation of probation or other conditional release due to technical violations, such as carelessness, low deliberation, or failing to appear.
- CRIMINAL VERSATILITY — a diversity of types of criminal offenses, regardless if the person has been arrested or convicted for them; taking great pride at getting away with crimes. [Source: <http://faculty.ncwc.edu/toconnor/428/428lect16.htm>]

It is fairly simple to see that the Indigo Child has some of the traits of psychopathic behavior. Since this is the case, perhaps they are one and the same. While it is my contention that some people are born “just plain bad;” I do believe that (contrary to what the Wesleyan Faculty idea) that this behavior can be acquired. Imagine if you will, a child that had two parents and a family structure that allows them to run amok their whole childhood. The child would grow up with little sense of right and wrong; no knowledge of YHVH; basically, a poster child for anarchy. Given this foundation, the child would become a psychopath, or as the Bible refers to him/her, a child of perdition. It is scary to think that a whole generation of these individuals are now in the process of being handed the keys to the world and all its affairs.

The Anti-Christ Generation:

If you wanted to become a world dictator; one devoid of Yeshua or any sort of accountability, what would try to rear up before your reign? Well, you'd want a generation of people who have absolutely no morals. You'd want them to exhibit every trait mentioned in the 2 Timothy prophecy. You'd want drones who will flock to you at the right time. You'd want psychopaths, all whom have your key in their ignition, waiting for you to turn them on.

If the Indigo Children craze takes off that is exactly what will happen. For the most part, my generation has reared up a generation of children, not because they want to procreate and please YHVH. No, they just want to have children because it is what couples do. It is no different than all of the other worldly things that people acquire in order to keep up with the Jones'. Children are like new cars or homes in the eyes of many, made to last for the first five or six years without any maintenance; void of any upkeep and wearing a pretty facade while containing dead men's bones inside. They're all out there looking for answers although most of them would not admit to their search. Although most don't claim to be Indigo Children, they still possess the same qualities that the Indigo's say that they have, minus the spiritual abilities. When the world plummets into chaos someday soon and it seems that there is no hope, these children will be walking around in a dark fog, begging for answers. And of course, into the scene will pop one man who claims to have all of the answers. He'll solve a lot of the world's problems and he'll be accepted as the Messiah, Christ, the 12th Mahdi, Buddha and every other waited for deliverer.

The Remedy:

Of course, we have to take a look at what the Bible; YHVH's own Word, has to say about quashing this phenomenon. The Bible says thus:

Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it. Proverbs 22:6

There are other scriptures that talk about using a rod to administer correction to a child and there are probably some instances where such correction is necessary depending on the child. Back when I was a teen there was a lot of talk, and I think there still is, about not spanking a child. There were all sorts of reasons offered as to why spanking was a bad idea. But now we see a generation of kids who weren't spanked and they're on the news all of the time for doing stupid things and also committing crimes that were unthinkable just a generation back in time.

Now I currently have no biological children so some of you would dismiss what I say as the rantings of a fool who doesn't know what he is talking about. I do have stepchildren and they have given my wife and I grandchildren, so I can attest that I do have some experience in what to do and what not to do. I can however present my credentials as a former child. I know what was going through my head when I was misbehaving, and it wasn't good. A couple of years before he died, my dad and I had a talk about punishment. I mentioned to him about the times that he needed to hit me with his belt. Dad dropped his head in sadness and apologized to me for that sort of punishment. I rebuked him for his apology however. You see, he told me that I was basically a good child and he thought that I didn't need that sort of correction. Well, I know me, and what I was thinking and the plans that I thought out and implemented before I disobeyed, so I knew that I wasn't the great child that dad knew me to be. I thanked him for hitting me with the belt the few times he did. I told him that had he refrained from doing that to me I would have turned out to be a terrible adult; probably a very self-centered individual and would have been real messed up. I used my cousin as an illustration; who incidentally was never punished for anything. He came to Yeshua after many years of drug abuse and lawlessness.

There is a beautiful scripture in Hebrews that applies to this whole thing:

And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him: For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth. If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not? But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons. Furthermore we have had fathers of our flesh which corrected us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of spirits, and live? For they verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure; but he for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness. Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby. Hebrews 12:5-11

So hence, we have to bring up our children in the ways of YHVH, and we have to start on them as young as possible. We have to keep them on the right path. We can trust Yeshua to aid us on the spiritual upbringing of our children, that is a given. We can also pray that He'd give us the wisdom to raise our children in all other aspects of life. He can help us to overcome our inadequacies and bring up fine young men and women of YHVH.

The site where I got the information about psychopaths made mention several times that people with this problem really aren't redeemable. In worldly affairs that might be true, but we have to remember one thing. None of us was marketable before we were redeemed by the blood of Yeshua. We were all losers and all heading to hell. Even the best of us was like the worse psychopath in YHVH's eyes, but He didn't give up on us. Only YHVH knows whom He is able to redeem and those who are not redeemable and who are born to perdition. We are still bonded to give them the Gospel of Yeshua regardless of what we think or feel.

Some Indigo Children are redeemable! They're just kids who are getting off to a bad start, guided by misguided adults. Granted, a lot of deliverance and spiritual warfare needs to be worked through in order to fight and win this battle, but the results will be glorious. The Indigo Children myth is a reality that needs to be prayed for and come against in the Spirit. We need to guard our kids against it and equip them to fight it. After all, they are part of that perverse generation and they will be dealing with it long after we have gone to Glory.

CHAPTER FIVE

THE COUNTERFEIT RESURRECTION

As many of you know, I've been a Messianic Researcher in the UFO Realm. I've had a variety of interests in UFO, aliens and the anomalous since I was a child. Granted, the first 15 years or so was before I received a new life in Yeshua, but after my conversion I saw the light of what is really happening with all of this UFO stuff and the propaganda that is promoted to make the public believe in that phenomenon.

One of the questions that most in the secular realm who research UFOs and aliens always have is what are the purposes of abduction? Why abduct so many people for genetic material when the basic human genome can be found in ten or less individuals? Why would studies show that upwards of three to five percent of all Americans have been abducted? Many Christians who look into the phenomenon ask the same questions. There are those of us who are willing to look outside the box for answers. There are those of us who want to know the answers to those questions, no matter what the truth might be. We aren't willing to ask questions and sticking our heads in the sand to avoid the answer because it might be something that we're not prepared to hear.

So again, the question raises its ugly head. Why abduct so many people? Well, one reason that is quite evident, taking into account the propagation of UFO disciples around the world; they are indoctrinating people to spread the alien gospel. A simple scan of the channel menu of any cable or satellite provider shows a constant barrage of programs about ancient aliens, UFO investigators and pseudo-scientific alien abduction research. If one chooses, they could watch programs about aliens, UFOs and paranormal research from the moment that they rise in the morning until they go to sleep. The alien gospel is as prevalent on television as televangelists were twenty years ago. The alien gospel has replaced the true Gospel of Yeshua Ha Mashiach, in the media anyway.

Now, what I'm about to present might send some of you away labeling me as a crackpot or a lunatic, but frankly, I don't care what you think. The truth is the truth no matter how much people don't like it. Murder was murder during the Holocaust even if the Nazi State sanctioned it. Robbery is robbery even if the Federal government says that you need to pay taxes or you will go to jail. Adultery is adultery even if someone uses a myriad of excuses to make it right in the eyes of their friends. Get the picture? I have always been a proponent of praying about everything that I see and hear. The Ruach Ha Kodesh is the only bearer of truth and He is the only person who can enable us to discern between truth and lies. If what I present is too far off for you; if it makes you mad; if it makes you scratch your head and walk away or if it sends you away screaming into the night; all I ask is that you take the information and pray about it and ask YHVH to reveal the truth to you. I think that's pretty fair, don't you?

We will now start out with a little refresher in human biology. The human male has a seed and that is called sperm. A human woman has the egg, called an Ovum. Procreation dictates that males and females have some sort of union, whether it be in-vivo or in-vitro, (meaning that male sex cells have union with female sex cells); one male cell enters the egg of the female and through cell division and ultimate cell diversity a human is born somewhere around nine months after the union. By the way, with the formation of the first cell, the embryo is a human. He or she has all 46 chromosomes that designate them to be human. They are no less viable for life than you or I would be if we were dropped in the Alaskan wilderness in the dead of winter without winter clothing. Those who say that a fetus isn't viable until a certain age would not be viable in the scenario that I just proposed. Enough said about that, and I digress. By the way, for those of you who lack knowledge in Latin, vivo is Latin for life, or within the life or body; vitro means outside the body, or in a laboratory. With that knowledge we can ascertain that in-vivo means life created with a female's body and in-vitro means life created in a laboratory, or outside a body. Now we have had a refresher in human development and procreation. Let's move on.

Let me take a moment to blow your mind a little more and to make you really think that I'm crazy, or at best misinformed. I do not believe in aliens as the world defines them. The world sees aliens as extraterrestrials; space brothers from other worlds or galaxies. After all, that is what they purport, themselves to be and that is what their disciples are purporting, but I don't buy that lie. Again, why would beings that are so advanced not be able to get all genetic information from just ten or so humans around the world. Our own science-fiction writers have proposed things like tricorders (remember Star Trek?) to read the human body and all of its ills and structure, right? So, why would aliens, who are supposedly so more advanced than we are reportedly are in development compared to them; why would they resolve to use barbaric and sadistic operative means to obtain the information that they need? If they were closer to god, or were gods themselves, why cause all of the pain, strife and mental anguish that these beings bring about? Perhaps it is because they're not who they say that they are, hmmm? We'll explore who they really are later but continue on, knowing that the evidence shows (me and many others) that they are not from other planets, galaxies, our future or other popular theories.

Wow, I haven't sent you away in disgust yet? Well, let me continue and we'll see if you are able to handle the truth, or at least read to the end before you totally demonize me or the idea that I will present.

Having looked at human procreation and how it's done, let's delve a little farther into the alien abduction event. People of all ages, genders and races are taken by the abductors. Children who are abducted are for the most part put through a reeducation regimen. They are indoctrinated to believe that they are a new and special generation that will bring about a repopulation of earth after some sort of cataclysm. They are told that they are special and many times they are told that they are not the seed of their parents but have been created by the alien abductors. Adults are many times put through the reeducation regimen, but they are also robbed of genetic material. Woman abductees are told that their eggs are being taken for research and males have their semen extracted. Sometimes human males and females are made to have sexual union with each other or with their alien abductors. Sometimes the women are presented with strange looking babies or young children and the women are told that the children need to be held by a human female, or, they are told that the babies are really their children.

Wait a minute! Remember our little recap of human sexuality? What is the main reason for humans to have heterosexual sexual union. What has been the purpose of that union throughout all of human history? The purpose is to procreate and to make children; to populate the earth. Could the purpose of the alien abductors be the same? After all, why harvest so many eggs and take so much sperm? Again, it probably isn't so that they can study the human genome. Such advanced beings should have been able to ascertain that after just a few abductions. The only thing that makes one damn lick of sense is that they want to fertilize the eggs with the sperm and they want to create children in-vitro.

Before we continue, we need to take a side trip to explain more. I have said that I don't believe that these beings come from other planets. If they're not from other planets, or galaxies; if they're not from parallel universes, our future or any of the "popular" explanations, then where can they come from. In my book, "Unholy Communion..." I presented written evidence from scientific researchers like Jacques Vallee, J. Allen Hynek and various others, that these beings seem to have more of an interdimensional aspect to them. Vallee and a few others even equated them to being, are you ready for this, DEMONIC in nature. I know that this is a hard pill to swallow, but when a renowned scientist who has done extensive research in this field makes such a statement you have to put some weight behind the idea. Now, take that and add to it that in a few of the abduction cases, the very scenario of them creating a new race of "more evolved" humans has been told to the abductees themselves by their abductors. Pretty damning evidence.

If these beings are indeed demonic in nature then it brings a whole "scriptural" element into the story. Does scripture talk about such a thing? Could there be inferences that talk about aliens in scripture, but perhaps using different wording? What is an alien anyway, how is the word defined?

From the Oxford Online Dictionary:

- a foreigner, especially one who is not a naturalized citizen of the country where they are living: an illegal alien
- a hypothetical or fictional being from another world.

- a plant or animal species originally introduced from another country and later naturalized.

The origin of the word is even more interesting:

- Middle English: via Old French from Latin alienus ‘belonging to another’, from alius ‘other’.

If one delves into the definitions and origin it can be quite alarming. We see the first definition meaning that they are a foreigner from another country. It could easily be amended to mean a foreigner from another reality, another dimension or from a supernatural reality. The second definition talks about an alien being a plant or animal species originally introduced from another country and later naturalized. That could easily be amended to introduce it as an animal or species or being that is introduced from another country or dimension or reality, and later naturalized. That is scary. The real interesting thing however is the word origin; Latin, the word alienus, meaning belonging to another. Another what; another type of being, another reality, another dimension? Vallee, Hynek and others said they seem to come from other dimensions or realities and that they act in a demonic manner. The puzzle pieces are beginning to come together.

I asked above if there could be a scriptural mention of such beings, right? Yes, there are such mentions. Take the Genesis Six account:

There were giants in the earth in those days; and also after that, when the sons of God came in unto the daughters of men, and they bare children to them, the same became mighty men which were of old, men of renown. Genesis 6:4

The Hebrew word for “sons of God” is B’nai Elohim, and in the Tanakh (the Old Testament) is always ascribed to angels. Here are some examples:

Now there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the Lord, and Satan came also among them. Job 1:6

And:

Again there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the Lord, and Satan came also among them to present himself before the Lord. Job 2:1

And:

When the morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy? Job 38:7

All of the instances where “sons of God” are mentioned are the Hebrew words B’nai Elohim. It is clear from the accounts in the Book of Job, that the sons of God are spiritual beings. It is also clear from the Genesis account that the sons of God were not men because there is a clear delineation between the two initial entities. One is daughters of men, in other words, human, and the other is beings other than human. The offspring of the union in Genesis are translated as Giants from the Greek word “Gigantes,” however the original Hebrew (which the Tanakh was inscribed) shows the word “Nephilim,” which means fallen ones. In reality, the definition of “fallen ones” means the offspring of “fallen ones.” They were half human and half spiritual being, or angel.

The extra-biblical book of 1st Enoch, which many see as a historical account, much like many scholars use Josephus, Philo and Eusebius, has many references to this unnatural union and its implications. The following is found in Chapter's 6 and 7 of 1 Enoch:

1. And it came to pass when the children of men had multiplied that in those days were born unto them beautiful and comely daughters. 2. And the angels, the children of the heaven, saw and lusted after them, and said to one another: 'Come, let us choose us wives from among the children of men and beget us children.' 3. And Semjâzâ, who was their leader, said unto them: 'I fear ye will not indeed agree to do this deed, and I alone shall have to pay the penalty of a great sin.' 4. And they all answered him and said: 'Let us all swear an oath, and all bind ourselves by mutual imprecations not to abandon this plan but to do this thing.' 5. Then sware they all together and bound themselves by mutual imprecations upon it. 6. And they were in all two hundred; who descended [in the days] of Jared on the summit of Mount Hermon, and they called it Mount Hermon, because they had sworn and bound themselves by mutual imprecations upon it. 7. And these are the names of their leaders: Sêmîazâz, their leader, Arâkîba, Râmêêl, Kôkabîêl, Tâmiêl, Râmîêl, Dânel, Êzêqêêl, Barâqîjâl, Asâêl, Armârôs, Batârêl, Anânêl, Zaqîêl, Samsâpêêl, Satarêl, Tûrêl, Jômjâêl, Sariêl. 8. These are their chiefs of tens.

1. And all the others together with them took unto themselves wives, and each chose for himself one, and they began to go in unto them and to defile themselves with them, and they taught them charms and enchantments, and the cutting of roots, and made them acquainted with plants. 2. And they became pregnant, and they bare great giants, whose height was three thousand ells: 3. Who consumed all the acquisitions of men. And when men could no longer sustain them, 4. the giants turned against them and devoured mankind. 5. And they began to sin against birds, and beasts, and reptiles, and fish, and to devour one another's flesh, and drink the blood. 6. Then the earth laid accusation against the lawless ones.

Well, you sort of get the idea, right? There were spiritual beings, angels (today's term is interdimensional beings) who had sexual relations with human women and the result was human/alien (they were fallen angels and not natural earth-born entities, therefore alien) hybrids.

One more thing that we need to consider about this story before we start to tie it all together (if you haven't already) is another account in Enoch. It is important for people to know the difference between demons and fallen angels. Leading up to the following account, the fallen angels realized that they had made a great error, that they rebelled against the "Lord of Spirits," and they sent Enoch to plead for clemency. The following decree was given in 1 Enoch chapters 15 and 16:

1 And He answered and said to me, and I heard His voice: 'Fear not, Enoch, thou righteous

2 man and scribe of righteousness: approach hither and hear my voice. And go, say to the Watchers of heaven, who have sent thee to intercede for them: "You should intercede" for men, and not men

3 for you: Wherefore have ye left the high, holy, and eternal heaven, and lain with women, and defiled yourselves with the daughters of men and taken to yourselves wives, and done like the children

4 of earth, and begotten giants (as your) sons? And though ye were holy, spiritual, living the eternal life, you have defiled yourselves with the blood of women, and have begotten

(children) with the blood of flesh, and, as the children of men, have lusted after flesh and blood as those also do who die

5 and perish. Therefore have I given them wives also that they might impregnate them, and beget

6 children by them, that thus nothing might be wanting to them on earth. But you were formerly

7 spiritual, living the eternal life, and immortal for all generations of the world. And therefore I have not appointed wives for you; for as for the spiritual ones of the heaven, in heaven is their dwelling.

8 And now, the giants, who are produced from the spirits and flesh, shall be called evil spirits upon

9 the earth, and on the earth shall be their dwelling. Evil spirits have proceeded from their bodies; because they are born from men and from the holy Watchers is their beginning and primal origin;

10 they shall be evil spirits on earth, and evil spirits shall they be called. [As for the spirits of heaven, in heaven shall be their dwelling, but as for the spirits of the earth which were born upon the earth, on the earth shall be their dwelling.]

11 And the spirits of the giants afflict, oppress, destroy, attack, do battle, and work destruction on the earth, and cause trouble: they take no food, but nevertheless

12 hunger and thirst, and cause offences. And these spirits shall rise up against the children of men and against the women, because they have proceeded from them.

Chapter 16

1 From the days of the slaughter and destruction and death of the giants, from the souls of whose flesh the spirits, having gone forth, shall destroy without incurring judgement - thus shall they destroy until the day of the consummation, the great judgement in which the age shall be

2 consummated, over the Watchers and the godless, yea, shall be wholly consummated.”

And now as to the Watchers who have sent thee to intercede for them, who had been aforesaid in heaven, say to them:

3 “You have been in heaven, but all the mysteries had not yet been revealed to you, and you knew worthless ones, and these in the hardness of your hearts you have made known to the women, and through these mysteries women and men work much evil on earth.”

4 Say to them therefore: ” You have no peace.”“

If you have always wondered about demons and fallen angels, you now know the difference. The fallen angels were the fathers, the Nephilim were the sons, and the demons we fight against today are the disembodied spirits of the Nephilim. Believe it or not, you have a one-up on many Christians about this; even many pastors don't know the difference.

Okay, let's start to tie this thin up, shall we. We see that there once was a race of beings called Nephilim that were the sons of fallen angels and human women. We see that a decree went out from the Lord of Spirits (aka YHVH Elohim) for the Nephilim to kill each other by the sword. We see that their spirits are the demons, and we know the difference between fallen angels and demons. We also know from historic accounts and scriptural proof that evil spirits like to and need to inhabit bodies. I'm sure that they feel that they were robbed of a corporeal existence and desire another corporeal existence.

Why would today's "aliens" be so interested in harvesting ovum and sperm from their human abductees? The only reason would be to make human beings, perhaps modified human beings. The book of Joel describes beings who will fall on swords and not be harmed and who will do all sorts of exploits, an army used by YHVH; but they are not believers because the army is evil, used to accomplish YHVH's purposes. Revelation talks about people who will beg for death and it will not come to them. Could it be describing angelic/human hybrids? Who knows. Will the Mark of The Beast be in reality an offer for immortality if you swear allegiance to the Man of Perdition? Could the sperm and ovum taken from people by these entities be used to make soulless bodies for the disembodied spirits of the Nephilim to possess in a twisted attempt to attain a resurrected body and escape judgment? Makes you think huh?

Back in 2011, I was mourning the death of my first wife. I missed her dearly and I was expressing to YHVH my anguish and depression and the emptiness in my heart while at my home. At one point I heard the following from YHVH:

"you will see her again in this lifetime, but beware, it will not be her."

At this point I began to think about this whole ovum and sperm thing. I knew that my deceased wife had had experiences with abduction experiences, or near abduction experiences. Did she have her ovum removed? I can't say yes or no, but I know that she did have the experiences before she was a believer in Yeshua. Could the enemy be making a fake Lourdes to try to delude me sometime in the future, maybe to try to get me to take the Mark of the Man of Perdition, or to walk away from YHVH before then?

Last week my wife (second wife) and I were watching one of our favorite programs and a bizarre commercial came on during a break in the show. The ad was for a new series called “Resurrection,” which showed several instances where people once known to be dead suddenly show up at the doors of loved ones saying that they are home. This really hit home with what YHVH warned me about. I do think that part of the deception will be counterfeit loved ones returning to deceive us. Of course, they will not be our actual loved ones, but clones, fakes and counterfeits sent to deceive us. All I can say is if your deceased wife, husband, father, mother or child appear to you in flesh and blood BEFORE the actual Rapture (and there’s reason to believe that there will be a false rapture) then rebuke them and walk away.

CHAPTER SIX

WHAT ABOUT BLACK-EYED CHILDREN?

A few years back I was asked a question about beings that are called Black-Eyed Children. No, I'm not talking about bullying or fighting, but I'm referring to children that seem to come out of nowhere and go the same way.

These children are described as being dressed in dark garb, usually in what many of us call hoodies. They are said to have very pale skin coloring, are usually slim in figure but their most striking feature is that their eyes are black. Now I'm not talking about them having black iris' or dilated pupils, but the blackness is described as being entirely black, that is black sclera, the entire eyeball being black.

People that have encountered them have ALL sensed a fear when dealing with them. Their usual method of operation is to walk up to strangers, usually at night and to ask for help. They will sometimes ask for rides or to be let inside a vehicle. If they approach a home, they will often say that they are lost and that they need to use the phone. Like I said, most people who have dealt with them have had a profound sense of fear, like fear exudes from these children.

They also have been reported to have what appears to be a hypnotic effect on the humans that they approach. One fellow, who visited an ATM machine late one night was approached by three black eyed children after he returned to his car. One of the children that appeared to be of teenage years asked to be let into the car, but the man declined. He said that he felt strange about these kids and made sure that his car doors were locked, and the windows were up. After they asked to be let into the car a couple more times the requests became demands. The driver said that he noticed that his hand was moving unconsciously toward the unlock button at which time he pulled it away. The man that told the story said he felt an overwhelming fear that caused him to start up his car and leave the area in a very quick manner.

Another story is told by a man who was a former Marine who heard a knock on his door while he was home. He said that he normally doesn't spook easily but the appearance of these children frightened him, so much so that he armed himself with a shotgun. The children first asked to come into his home to use the phone but when he denied them entry they started to demand that he let them in. The man said that for a long period of time the children kept knocking and demanding to be let in, but he always replied declined their request. He said that he never felt a fear like he felt when they were demanding entrance at his front door. When the children left, and he opened the door he noticed fingernail or claw marks in his front door.

There have been individuals that have let these children into their homes, but it has never gone well afterwards. There have been reports of perfectly healthy people coming down with serious and/or strange illnesses when they have allowed the children to enter. Some have reported that the children have had the same attributes ascribed to what people call Men in Black. Lore has it that evil will come upon anyone that befriends these children. One story talked about an elderly husband and wife that allowed black eyed children to enter to use the phone. Within a period of months, they had both succumbed to illnesses that they acquired after the children visited.

As I mentioned earlier, the most striking feature of these children is that their entire eyes are a dark black color. Earlier in this book I mentioned that there have been instances that during alien abduction encounters men and women have been shown children that somewhat resemble human children, but they look like crossbreeds with alien (fallen angelic) entities. The human abductees are often asked to hold these children so that they can feel loved and wanted and they are told that the children are theirs, presumably genetic manipulations of their own DNA. Many times, the stories recount that what abductees found odd were the eyes of the hybrids. Are these so called “children” the result of the mingling of fallen angelic seed with human seed? My answer to that question is, yes.

I mentioned earlier that my belief is that the alien abduction phenomenon is occurring so that the fallen entities can create human shells that will house the spirits of the Nephilim. From the descriptions of the Black-Eyed Children it would seem that the fallen angels have almost completed their task. Perhaps the Black-Eyed Children have been released into human society to see if humans will accept genetically enhanced hybrids.

Extraterrestrial Legislation – Enacting Laws for the Ultimate Illegal Alien:

One of the things that I learned when I was in Roswell is that there are actually people that are trying to get laws enacted that will protect alien visitors when they finally reveal themselves. We’re talking about the ultimate illegal alien when we refer to these creatures. It is quite possible that all of the illegal alien hubbub and all of the efforts to pass legislation to make illegal aliens legal is a testbed to be able to enact such legislation when the ultimate illegal alien arrives in every large city on the face of the Earth. Perhaps the conditioning that most of the civilized world is receiving in regard to multiculturalism is being done to get humanity ready for the ultimate invader who will be made to look like poor refugees that need our assistance and we are being prepared to allow the assimilation of such beings, but mark my words these beings no matter how sad and sorry they appear will be just like the Islamic hordes that are invading Europe and every free country in the world; they come as refugees but grow in numbers so as to conquer. We will probably be fed a lie that these ultimate illegal aliens are here because their star was dying, and they need a place to live and in exchange for our “kindness,” we will be given cures for diseases and advanced technology, and I’ll bet that the technology is occult in nature.

Earlier on I talked about a word that I received from YHVH about people coming in disguise as our dearly departed relatives. How could such a thing be done? Well, every year people donate blood, or they are admitted into the hospital, both acts where you gladly give DNA material to the hospital to help others or to help yourself. When you sign that organ donor card it gives permission for people to use your organs and/or DNA material for whatever purpose that they want to use it for. And how about when you die, your whole body is rife with DNA material that is still alive that anyone can access if they want it bad enough. If the fallen angelic entities are as advanced as the purport to be then it seems that it is very possible that they can use any of that material to create clones of the ones that we once loved. That, coupled with any sort of demonic entity that followed your loved one around while he or she was alive knows every intimate detail about them and about you and if it were possible, they could deceive the very Elect of YHVH.

We need to look not only at what we know is possible, but also what might be possible if someone with advanced technology were to acquire anything that they need to deceive us. We need to look at what could be possible given the right circumstances. We need to realize that when we are dealing with fallen angelic entities, they possess knowledge that we cannot possibly fathom, things that we could never think of. On that premise we need to look outside the box at what is possible and live with the notion that nothing is impossible if such entities have a plan to enslave and destroy mankind.

However, on the flipside of the coin we to remember that everything that happens does so because YHVH gives his consent if it works in his plans for redeeming the Earth and the people of the Earth at his Second Coming. Yeshua told his disciples (and us too) that we need to be wise as serpents but gentle as doves. Both of these attributes come from reading and understanding his Scripture. That is a threefold job. We read, we pray for understanding and the Ruach Ha Kodesh helps us to understand and apply that knowledge. It is high time that we start to pray more, read scripture more and obey YHVH's Law impeccably. It's time that we reach out to the lost so that every creature has had a chance to hear the Gospel of Yeshua thus we can hasten His return to Earth to put an end to lawlessness and to bring about an era of peace, love and joy. Might I suggest that if you do not know YHVH Yeshua that you do so immediately.
