

Are UFOs Merely Portals from Another Dimension to Our Own?

Copyright 2010 David Ben Ya'akov / The Delusion Resistance

If you've read much of my work you know that I'm involved in the research of UFOs from a Biblical perspective. I wasn't always like this. I grew up with a dad who believed in UFOs because of an encounter that he had with an object while night fishing back in New Jersey at a lake called Wawayanda. My dad became obsessed with UFOs and we would steal away once a month to New York City where he could buy UFO magazines at the newsstands. He didn't want to get teased about believing in Little Green Men, so we went to the city where everyone is anonymous. We had volumes of UFO magazines and dad even sent off for the USAF report called Blue Book (the public edition of course). Of course, being my father's son, I became a layman expert in the field because I read everything that dad read and I absorbed it like a sponge. I had my own encounter with "unexplained phenomenon" while a child too.

As I grew older, I came to faith and in the year 1979 I came to know Yeshua as my savior. While my new faith was young, I had no interest in UFOs. Oh, from time to time I wondered about them, and how they fit into YHVH's scheme of things, but that was it. As I grew in faith, I had to face the fact that my interest in UFO's needed to be addressed, not from a secular view, but from a Biblical view. I began to scour the scriptures and the internet. The scriptures gave me vague ideas about the subject, but the internet helped YHVH to open my eyes. I began to read the writings of others and found that there is a profound spiritual component to the UFO and Alien Abduction phenomenon. From the time that I came to faith I had a sneaking suspicion that UFO's were sinister in nature, and being young in faith I wanted to become firmer in my beliefs before I studied anything else. In the 1990's I was firmly rooted in my faith and began to have a look see to see if there was a paranormal aspect to UFOs.

I have always had a scientific way of looking at things. Coming from a family that had vast plumbing background I knew that science applied to just about every aspect of life. Physics plays an important aspect into almost all aspect of the trades of plumbing, pipefitting, electricians, electronics and yes, even carpentry. However, my new faith showed me that the God that created everything was also the God of physics, and if YHVH Elohim is the creator of the Universe (which He is) then he has to be somehow outside the realm of the physical universe. If the creator was part of the creation then he would have to create himself when he created the universe, making him part of his own creation; this notion being much akin to the theory of evolution; something created itself from nothing.

YHVH can't be in another dimension, because dimensions are part of the universe (or universes if you want to go that direction), He would have to be outside of the entire creation, in an unique reality that would be beyond time and space. Time and space figure a lot into the universe as we know it and as it exists. One thing that always bothered me about UFOs was that in many cases they either vanished or zoomed up into the nothingness of space at speeds that would kill anything that was corporeal. I read about them vanishing into the ground and even going into or coming out of what some speculated to be wormholes. If something defies the laws of physics, then it has to be subject to something other than physics, such as metaphysics. Then, I began to read works by J. Allen Hynek, Jacques Vallee and others who suggested that UFOs and aliens might be interdimensional in nature. This made a lot of sense to me. If you aren't physical (meaning a reality in our dimension) then you can defy the laws of physics. For instance, if an object appears to make a ninety-degree angle at nine thousand miles per hour in our dimension, if it were interdimensional then in its real dimension it could be doing something that is possible there, but looks impossible here. Plus, if it is entering our dimension from its own dimension such things might be possible before it fully becomes part of our dimension, where it would be subject to the physics of our reality. In other words, are UFOs really physical objects, or are they portals that are able to be not physical while in transition between portals, but physical while here; sort of like a Star-Gate that molds to the reality that it is in.

The Bible alludes to the fact that we are surrounded by a great cloud of witnesses, which suggests that there are beings that are all around us that can see us but that we cannot see. The book Flat Land is an interesting book. The premise behind the work is that someone living in a one-dimensional reality cannot see a three dimensional being because flatland is a one dimensional world. The only way to enter into his world would be to introduce something through the one-dimensional plane. I like the way that Chuck Missler explains it. If you were to place the tip of your finger into flatland, the person living there would see a circle, and if he could see anything else, he would not be able to explain it. If a ball were to pass through flatland, the person living there would see a dot that grew to a circle the diameter of the ball and then would shrink down to a circle and disappear.

Now we come to something interesting. Many times, when we hear people describe their encounters with supernatural beings, they say that they saw it first through the corner of their eyes. I for one, believe that our peripheral vision can see into the supernatural. While I lived in Sacramento, my living-room window would face west and southwest. Looking southwest was looking toward the direction of the former Mather Air Force Base. My television was situated so that when I watched it I was looking south. When I would watch television and had the blinds open there were many times, when out of the peripheral vision, I would see things appear outside to my left, right above where Mather Field would be. When I would turn to look directly, it would not be there. We're told that the retina of the eye is made up of rods and cones; one receives blacks and whites and the other receives colors. I know, just from sitting here experimenting, that if I'm looking straight and I hold my left hand to my side, I know that it's there, but I do not see it clearly. That means that the refractory factor is different between straight on view and peripheral. When we look straight on, we see things clearly because our eyes are programmed to focus, however our peripheral vision isn't programmed to focus. The light and/or image that we see peripherally enters the eye at an angle. Could that be why the peripheral tends to see things that are interdimensional while the straight eye doesn't.

Here's another oddity. I have a friend that lives down in Roswell, New Mexico. He likes to take pictures of scenery and cloud formations and such. He's a lover of nature as well as the creator of nature. Mike takes many pictures, where he doesn't see any anomalies with his naked eye, or even through the lens finder, yet quite a few pictures when they are views have images of UFOs in the background. What is the difference between the camera and the human eye? Both are trained to focus and such, but the eye never stops seeing motion. The camera snaps a picture in what we call a moment of time. Time keeps moving for the eye, but it stops for the camera. Another interesting thing happened a couple of years ago. Actually, the event occurred in 2005 but what occurred during the event was not pointed out to me until around 2013. Back in 2005 several of us went out into the desert near Roswell to find what David Flynn thought would be the real 1947 crash site for the UFO event that year. One strange thing is that the Government purchased GPS device lost the 14 satellites that were tracking our hike. This happened not only once, but twice and really puzzled Mark Flynn who said that it was not really possible since the device was working, was tested before we went out and worked before and after both events. But what was really interesting was sent to me in an email question. A fellow of ours asked if we had ever noticed the UFO that flew by while we were out there, and that there was a second one too. I looked at the video and stopped it frame by frame around the time that he mentioned and sure enough, a disk-shaped object was at the top left corner of one frame and was exiting the picture in the lower right hand of the next frame. None of us had ever seen that object, or the other one later on, but it appeared on the video. If you go to my channel, yirmayahu1 on YouTube you can see the video.

Before I go on, I mentioned the works of J. Allen Hynek and Jacques Vallee. In those works, they both referred to UFOs having the characteristics of something more interdimensional rather than interstellar physical craft. In some works, Vallee states that UFOs and aliens act more demonic than physical in character. It's easy to understand why they would use the "interdimensional" word; simply because to say the "spiritual realm" would denote that there is a higher power, something that scientists cannot say. If they use "spiritual," they will most likely be highly ostracized from the scientific community. I do think that Mr. Vallee was quite brave to use the word "demonic" in some of his quotes, as have other secular researchers, but always likening the UFO phenomenon to what the "ancients" viewed as demonic.

Oh, and before we go any further, I must emphasize that there are different types of UFOs. What do I mean by that? Well, there are real nuts and bolts UFOs constructed by men using back engineering. There is a second type, a spiritual reality that enters into our physical reality bringing with it fallen angels, or what secular society sees as creatures from other star systems or galaxies. If you read the accounts of what happened before the flood, from the Bible but also from Apocryphal books such as 1 Enoch, Jubilees and Jasher. The three latter books are not considered canon, but just like Josephus and Philo are ancient historians that Christians and Jews revere, so these three latter books are great for gaining an understanding of certain epochs of time and the history therein. Information is obtained from those books that certain "technologies" were given to mankind via the fallen angels, whom incidentally are named in those books. As a side note, many of the false gods of the New Age are again using those same names; my thought, not by coincidence, but on purpose because they are the same entities.

When I mention nuts and bolts UFO's that have been obtained by backward engineering of crashed UFOs, my belief is that those "crashed" UFOs were crashed on purpose to give humans "technology" that the fallen angels will ultimately use against mankind, just like before the flood. This would in some degree fulfill Yeshua's words, where He said that when He returned, it would be like "in the days of Noah." You can read more about man-made UFOs by going to Jim Wilhelmsen's site, Echoes of Enoch, or by buying his book, Beyond Science Fiction.

The other UFOs that many see are spiritual in nature, and I believe, are portals between other dimensions and our own. Jim Wilhelmsen has done a wonderful job putting an article together called The Clouds of Heaven, where he asserts that scripture proves that angelic entities use what he terms "vehicles" to enter and exit our reality. When we use the word "vehicle" it doesn't necessarily mean a physical craft, but a way that is used to convey from one place to another. For instance, when I'm teaching math class at school and I write out the formula on the board, it is a vehicle that is being used to allow the students to understand how to do the math. In other words, a vehicle can be a method. Merriam Webster's Online dictionary defines vehicle as:

Vehicle:

1. an inert medium (as syrup) in which a medicinally active agent is administered; any of various media acting usually as solvents, carriers, or binders for active ingredients or pigments.

2. An agent of transmission: carrier.

3. A medium through which something is expressed, achieved, or displayed <an investment vehicle>; especially: a work created specially to display the talents of a particular performer.

4. A means of carrying or transporting something <planes, trains, and other vehicles>; as a motor vehicle; a piece of mechanized equipment

We know that in our current reality, we can reckon four dimensions; length, width, height and the fourth being time. We can all relate to those things because we see them constantly while we're alive. However, like our friend in Flatland not being able to fully understand above one dimension, we cannot comprehend outside of those four dimensions without using some complicated physics, and even after that, we still cannot fully understand anything beyond the four that we know. What always amazes me about scientists is that if they would dare to read a Bible, they would come up with things well before and far easier than they do using all of the computations that they employ. For instance, science talks about space/time being a fabric. A good search of the Bible shows that this is not a new concept. The Bible talks about the heavens being stretched out like a garment, spread out like a tent, and that someday it will be rolled back like a scroll.

Now, perhaps what I present now is a bit too simplified. After all, all of these new theories about the universe come from people with doctorates in physics and particle sciences, so how can it be simple. If we take the Bible and science literally, and space/time is a fabric, then there is something on one side of the fabric and something on the other side of the fabric. Of course, for science's sake we have to imagine a four-dimensional fabric. When I was a child, I can remember a peculiar smell in my grandparent's closet. My grandmother explained to me that the smell was called mothballs. These little white balls were made from naphtha, a chemical that moths found offensive. Without those little white balls in the closet, certain moths could lay their eggs on certain fabric and the eggs would hatch and become larvae that would eat holes in the fabric. We hear a lot of talk by scientists these days concerning something called the wormhole. To put this in layman's terms, imagine a piece of fabric lying flat. You can take both ends of the cloth and push them toward the middle. This would be the equivalent of bending the fabric of space. Next, using certain forces, you could theoretically cause a hole where the two ends meet and go from one side of the cloth without having to cross the whole cloth. This would be equivalent to taking a needle and piercing near the two ends and passing from one side to the other. In our tailor situation, the needle created the hole between the two folds of cloth; the needle was a vehicle that was used to get from one side to another.

Using that needle would be sort of useless if the needle (vehicle) wasn't opening the two layers of cloth to introduce something else from one side to another. Everyone knows that a needle has an eye on one end and everyone knows that thread it threaded through the eye which allows the passage of the needle to bring the thread through the fabric. In sewing, the needle brings the thread through the fabric as many times as the tailor wants until the sewing is done and the needle is no longer needed, and it is placed to the side to be used later. Do you see the correlation between these things and UFOs? If the UFO (the spiritual UFOs I mean) is a vehicle to get from one dimension of the space/time fabric to another, then the fabric of space/time must be multilayered, each layer being a dimension of the universe. The UFO is like a needle that passes through the thread as a vehicle (or portal) that brings something with it from the other layer of thread to our layer of thread. Once through and whatever work is done, the UFO disappears, much like the needle is laid aside for another time.

In our current time the media and the government try to hoodwink us by having situations flare up to get our attention. While all the hubbub is being broadcast to the populace, they are many times doing other things because we're not looking at anything but the main thing that they have introduced. In a majority of the cases where alien abductions have occurred, they have been accompanied by a UFO being close by the visitation is occurring. If people see the saucer or lights, they are awed by it and other things are happening that are making a victim of someone or something. When the deed is done, the UFO either moves quickly away and fades from view, or it just disappears from view, often called blinking out. UFOs have been seen to just go into the ground, something that physical object cannot do without creating a hole or a crash.

One would say, "well, if what you're saying is right and UFOs are really portals, where is your proof." Well, I presented some already. They can do maneuvers that would kill a corporeal being. They just disappear a lot of times and sometimes they just fly into the ground or objects. Sometimes they become several objects only to morph into one object again. Sometimes they change shapes in front of peoples' eyes. But one of the best proofs that I've seen happened to two of my step-daughters back in 2009. While standing on the porch of a home in the hills around Pleasant Hill, Oregon, our daughter Julia noticed a bright object in the sky. The object started to make strange maneuvers which peaked her interest. She called her sister outside to watch the object while she went inside to get her camera. When she was finally able to snap a picture, the following is what manifested:

The picture above is an original. This is what the camera shot when the object was moving at her direction at a rapid rate of speed. One has to ask, why would a dot of light look like squiggly lines when it was moving toward someone. Well, a three-dimensional ball of light would have looked like a ball of light with perhaps some distortion because of the movement, but not with lines like are in this picture. Notice also at the top and top right of the light lines. There appears to be two images right at the top. Now, look at the next picture, a blown-up image of the lights in the picture:

Notice the two (what appear to be heads) at the top right. The head on the left has all of the markings of what we call an Alien Gray; same shaped head, two dark eyes and such. The figure on the right might be another type of “alien” or another Gray that just hasn’t come fully through the portal. Notice also that at the center of the lights there is one bright light. Could that be the portal and/or the UFO that brought these two entities into our reality from their spiritual reality? Could the bright light be a glimpse into the other side of the portal; into the other dimension? And, to make things a bit creepier, notice that the two entities seem to be looking right at my daughters. Could this have been some sort of scare tactic? Our daughter, her husband and their kids were all going to be immigrating to Israel two weeks later. Could this have been an attempt to get their eyes off of their upcoming move? All I know that the picture clearly shows two entities that were brought into our realm by a UFO. The actions of UFOs in other cases and in this one, where the entities are seen emerging from the portal, only cement into me more the fact that UFOs that are not man made are vehicles by which fallen angels can enter and exit our reality.

Some have attempted to say that these might have been angels of YHVH. There is one big problem there. Angels of YHVH (with the exception of Cherubim and Seraphim) always manifest as male humans. Fallen angels in our day tend to manifest as Grays, Reptilians, Insectoids and Nordics. Some theorize that the orders of fallen angel manifestations in our current time could be attributed to the evilness or the antiquity of when they fell. In other words, the reptilians were the most wicked, so they are most repugnant. It is also interesting that Yeshua told us that in our walk on earth we would walk on serpents and scorpions and would not be harmed. Two of the orders are reptilians (serpents), and insectoids (scorpions). The Nordics are most likely a higher form of fallen angel, or they haven't fulfilled their wickedness yet so they have not regressed to the more insidious looking forms. Only YHVH knows the order of the fallen angels.

I will be convinced to my dying day that the non-man-made UFOs are spiritual in nature and that they are vehicles by which the fallen angels enter and exit our reality as physical beings. The way that the world is going, and the rapidity with which wickedness is being magnified in this world, it won't be long before we find out these answers, each and every one of us. My advice? Stay strong in Yeshua and grown closer to YHVH each and every day so that on the day when the whole world falls under the delusion, you won't be hoodwinked. The Elect will not be fooled, I pray that you are one of us.
