

HILLARY KLINTON WANTS TO SEND PEOPLE TO HAPPY CAMPS

I am a historian and I just so happen to be part Jewish by birth. Knowing history and knowing that people are doomed to forget history each and every time, I get a bit antsy when I hear certain buzz words or phrases thrown about. I've grown accustomed for the most part to words like; kike, heeb, and Christ killer because they are said in ignorance by the lower classes of society that only know what they hear and are taught and never venture out to form their own opinions.

There are other words and/or phrases that bother me. The word "camp," when it is used as a place to send people often bothers me. I also don't like the word reeducation because it is another word for camp, work camp and/or forced labor and death camp. Words like gassing and ovens sends my mind to the German death camps, so I don't like those words much. What really bothers me the most is when the "elite" use words to reveal their agenda, not just for Jews, but for everyone that disagrees with the government regimen. If you read much outside of the government elitist news sources you've probably heard the term FEMA Camps and Internment Camps used. These terms are becoming commonly used words, and that is bothersome. Yes, many ascribe it to the machinations of "conspiracy theorists" but there is too much out there for all of it to be considered imaginations of people who have nothing better to do. In addition, the word guillotine has been going around a lot as well as beheading.

You see, it's not hard to put all of the two plus twos' together and continue to come up with fours. We have Islam running around performing genocide, a president that is a closet Muslim (who is placing Muslims in key government positions), and when you consider that Islamist's hate Christians and Jews (as well as everyone else in this world, including themselves) it's not hard to see that the idea of internment camps, or FEMA camps, and guillotine's are a valid concern, especially since Islam's favorite form of execution is beheading. Putting it all together, it's not hard to understand that when people in high power talk about "camps," they're not talking about the camps that we went to as kids, but camps where people can be reeducated and/or exterminated.

The elitist's, often referred to as the Illuminati are often braggarts. They like to play little word games to pass information to one another and to flaunt that they have or will soon have ultimate power over every human being on earth. One such idol of the braggarts is the Georgia Guidestone's, where the braggarts spell out their plans for earth in what will probably be the near future. The first of their edicts or goals is to reduce the earth's population down to half a billion people. Put that together with FEMA Camps, Internment Camps, reeducation, guillotines and beheading, and also all of the strange diseases that they're testing out on people through chemtrails and other means, and if Yahweh wasn't in ultimate control, the plans of these "elites" could be seen as a reality. They might come close to it however, given the words of Yeshua, who said that time was not shortened, no flesh would survive.

When I read the words of Hillary Clinton, and hear her speak it in a video, that this Hell Hound would like to assign people to "fun camps," because as she put it, there's not enough fun for adults, I have to look at it closer.

"As I have gotten older, I have decided we really need camps for adults. And we need the kind of camps that you all run, I mean, really. None of the serious stuff, none of the life challenge stuff," said the former Secretary of State.

"More fun, I think we have a huge fun deficit in America, and we need to figure out how to fill that fun deficit, certainly for our kids, but also for the rest of us. We need a reminder of our skills from time to time, maybe some enrichment, certainly some time outdoors, maybe actually spending time with people we didn't know before."

Hillary added that the camps would be places where, people would "have to come together and actually listen to each other." Hillary Clinton

She's making it sound like she wants to create a series of "Disneyland's" for adults to have fun, but there could be a more sinister meaning to what she is saying. The elites know that there are a lot of unhappy people in America. Most Americans are growing wise to the erosion of their rights by a president that is acting more like a monarch than an elected president. They see a Congress that is nothing but a puppet show, with the President holding the puppet strings. Americans know that they've been duped and they're not happy. Many are calling for impeachment of Obama only to hear their voices echo in a vast chasm of emptiness. Others would like the military to march into Washington to take back the country and to reestablish our former Constitutional Republic, but again those wishes fall upon deaf ears. This week I read the lamest excuse, coming from a former high military officer, saying that a coup would not happen because it would occur to unseat a civilian that is running (or ruining) the nation. So much for keeping the oath to protect and defend the Constitution, the document of law that is more sacrosanct than the office of President.

George Orwell is a man who many think was a prophet, while some think that he was an Illuminist that was a braggart who told of the Illuminati's plans to take over the world through a despot system. Many words came out of his book "1984" that are being implemented today. Here are just a few:

CRIMETHINK- To even consider any thought not in line with the principles of The Party.

THOUGHT CRIME- To commit the crime of illegal thought.

JOYCAMP- Forced-labor camp.

UNPERSON- Person that has been completely erased from existence and history by the government for breaking the law in some way.

The first two we can exhibit today in what is called "political correctness." In essence, society tells you what to think and say, and if you wander out of what society deems proper, you are called a racist, a bigot, a hater, a nonconformist, homophobic, Islamophobic or any other ill word that they can call you. In the Christian realm, if you speak your mind, you are judgmental or Pharisaical.

It is interesting that Hillary Clinton alluded to the term "fun camp," and notice that she refers to it as a place where you'd have to hang out with people you've never met before and that it would be a place where people would, "have to listen to each other." Again, I like to study history. I've read books by Jews and Russians that were sent to gulags in the Soviet Union. In the gulag you would be separated from your own kind. If a person was Jewish, he would be put together with those who hated Jews, if you were a political prisoner you would be put with those who hated politics and/or intellectuals. Hillary suggest the same thing. Also in the Soviet gulags you became an unperson if you didn't toe the line and accept the reeducation that they were trying to force them to accept. For instance, many Jews were told to forsake their Jewishness and to become secular. Those who refused were called "Refusenik's." They were kept separate and weren't allowed to receive mail or gifts from loved ones or even those who kept tabs on them. Back in the 1970's and 80's I was a person who was assigned three Refusenik's. I would write to them weekly, but never got a response. I would write to the camp Commandant and the guards, telling them that I knew that these men were in their camps and would always remember them and not let the Soviets turn them into unpersons. You see, I read 1984 in school, it was required reading during the Cold War. It taught us about despotic and totalitarian regimes and how they operate, and it warned us that it could someday happen here in America. It was a book that was a bit early for its time, and although it is over thirty years after the expected date of 1984, I see the warnings of the book coming true in an alarming fashion; not by the ills of totalitarian regime related to political philosophy, but one that by a society that became so afraid to talk, so fearful of protesting wrong doing, that it crumbled and will soon be replaced by a theocratic Islamic regime that will for a time conquer the world, spurred on by the rantings of an American President that is Islamic and has sworn to side with Islam when push came to shove.

Hillary Clinton, in a desperate attempt to gain presidential office has actually showed us her cards. She's not the answer to Barack Hussein Obama, she is the fulfillment of Barack Hussein Obama. Personally, I don't see Obama leaving office. I've said for a long time that I believe that at the last hour, even if there's been an election, that he will create some sort of crisis, institute martial law, suspend the constitution and hold onto the presidency. Of course, this will cause mass rebellion here in America which he will quell using our own military, his own civilian militia and by calling in UN troops to aid in bringing civil order. Anyone questioning his thoughts or wishes will be thrown into FEMA Camps for retraining (Hillary's Fun Camps) where they will either comply or be executed. Hillary will probably be appointed as something like a "reeducation czar" and will be in charge of the Fun Camps. The majority of the population will be promised good things if they turn in their neighbors for treasonous acts and even family members will rat out their own kin.

So mishpochim, you've heard it from the lips of the Queen Illuminist herself, Hillary Clinton. It will soon become a reality. If you give into the party line, you'll survive, but at what price, slavery to a despotic leader. If you question or fight back, you disappear and you will probably die. For those of us who believe in a life after this one; who call Yeshua our Mashiach and Yahweh, there is hope. We don't see the second death that the compromisers will see. A little pain and then eternity with Yeshua and Aveinu. The next holocaust will not be just for Jews, but for genuine believers in Yeshua and patriots that question and/or fight tyranny. It's probably a good idea to make the choice now rather than later so that you won't have to make it under pressure. We're going to see hard times for friends and family and there will be sorrow, but those that wait upon Yahweh will renew their strength, they will mount up on wings of eagles; they will run and not be weary, they will walk and not faint. Trust in Yahweh, until the very end, and you will be saved!

Epilogue: For those who would like to read what Orwell said about the Joy Camps, here is the link to that section of his book "1984."
