

IS OBAMA REALLY TO BLAME FOR AMERICA'S ILLS?

Frankly, I'm getting sick and tired of all of the political crap on television, radio and even on the internet. What makes me even more sick is when believers in Yeshua get mixed up in all of this dreck. We remember a phrase from way back when people would look at each other and say, "who's your daddy?" Well, that phrase is still good as I ask believers, who's your daddy and take it another step and say, "what's your kingdom?" The article below was originally started out to address a brother on Facebook who always seems to defend Obama and who sadly tends to turn the whole political race into a racially charged debate. My contention; if you look at the core, you will know the score.

When it comes to this whole political debate; this whole "who's to blame for the ills of America" debacle, I think that we need to look at the core before we consider what we see on the outside. For instance, if you work in an environment where there are people from all religions, Hindu's, Muslims, Buddhists, etc. and you sneeze almost all of them will say, "god bless you." That on the outside is nice because they are all wishing you a blessing from god, and society has been conditioned to believe that all roads lead to heaven so most accept that blessing. Those people meant well, but the Muslim was saying in effect, "Allah bless you," and the Hindu is saying, "Shiva bless you," and the Buddhist is hoping that "the Brahman will bless you." As I said, their gesture might have been sincere, but their core beliefs are so that you just were blessed in the name of three false gods.

Another example. When Islam says that it is a Religion of Peace, are they lying? One looks at all of the bloodshed and mayhem that Islam brings to the world and it is pretty easy to come to the determination that the pages of the Koran do teach hatred of infidels and subjugation of them too. So how could Islam be a religion of peace. When Islamists say that they are a Religion of Peace, they are not looking at today, they are looking at the end result. You and I know that when Yeshua returns there will be peace; one of his titles is "Prince of Peace," right? We know that aside from him bringing us peace in our hearts during terrible times, he will ultimately bring the whole world peace and we look forward to that. Well, in the same way the Muslim looks at the end result, and their philosophy teaches that when the whole world is subjugated under Islam, there will be no more enemies to fight, thus there will be a peace. That is their core goal, subjugation and murder to bring about peace.

George W. Bush came on the scene a few years ago and ran on several formats; one being that he is a Christian. Some of us saw through his mask and noticed that he was an impostor in that regard and that he too was just in place to sell America down the river. All presidents have been that way for the past several decades; I'm still on the fence about Reagan, but that is beside the point.

People were tired of the status-quo and wanted change and that is what Obama came and offered to America. The clue should have been seen when he promised to make "fundamental" changes. The fundamentals are the foundations, the very things that hold up a society. In effect, he was saying that he was going to change the very idea of what the United States is and change it into something else. That was his warning, and very few saw it. They just didn't want Bush anymore and they saw the "change" as an end of the Bush era.

With this in mind, what is the core of Obama? Well, we know from his writings, and the people he associated with that he is a Marxist Leninist and that he favors Socialist/Communitic philosophy. Anyone that has been alive for forty or more years can see that most presidents have pushed us toward the New Age / One World Government model. Each one, it would seem has taken away a freedom or two, or corrupted a freedom so that we could become more socialistic while communists around the world have tried to change communism into a more capitalist format. They have all been trying to make the world into a One World Government.

Assertions have been made in recent years that Obama has "inherited" a mess and there are some truths to those comments. The problem is that you only inherit something upon the death of the holder of assets. Yes, Obama did inherit, but he knowingly inherited it. This country was set on a course of destruction from a long time ago. We're like a murder victim that has been slowly killed. Now the US lies in bed on life support and the shadow government people are not happy with the longevity of our nation. They want things to change badly, so they hire what the mob calls a "fixer" who will do the dirty work and bring an end to a problem.

Aside from our Lord who keeps us going, our bodies rely on two major organs, the brain and the heart. These are the two foundation organs. Destroy these two organs and death occurs immediately. Other presidents have destroyed the other organs, the tissues, the bones and other things, but the foundation still exists. Obama's job, isn't to fundamentally change the American culture of this nation, his job is to destroy the fundamentals, demolish the foundations altogether.

It is high time that people in this thread and everywhere, especially believers in Yeshua finally realize that Obama is a tool of the New World Order and that he was groomed for this purpose. But it is even more important for people to realize that the US is being judged by Yahweh because we have been an immoral people. We have lived just like “we” have wanted to live yet we have claimed the name of Yahweh and in essence, we have mocked God (Yahweh). If anyone thinks that a righteous and supreme Creator is going to just let that happen without bringing about discipline then they are sadly mistaken. While the NWO is using Obama to put shackles on the American people, Yahweh is using him to bring America to its knees; to seek Yahweh and to turn from wickedness.

People can keep on making it a black/white issue or a liberal/conservative issue, that is their choice; but that only brings about division and if something brings about division in the Kingdom of Yahweh then we know where that comes from. This is not a race issue nor is it a political issue; it is a good vs. evil issue and you aren't going to find the answers in politics or in any politician. You're only going to find the answer in Yeshua (Jesus).

He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the LORD require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? Micah 6:8
