

MODERN DAY GIANTS IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC ISLANDS

I don't know how many of you were around about a year or two ago when all of the hubbub was going around about the Nephilim as me and other likeminded people were lured into a battle about the veracity of the Bible in regard to the above-named entities. In short, although the Bible in Genesis tells us in its sixth chapter that the Nephilim existed upon the Earth (rendered Giants in some editions), that did happen before the flood, and Genesis adds an interesting component, "and afterwards." It was an interesting discussion as those of us who see the Bible as infallible and accurate discussed vigorously about the placement of a "comma" in the scripture and what "afterward," meant; while the other camp, losing their argument resorted to name calling in a sandbox crying tantrum.

Now jump a couple of thousand years into the future and hear the words of Yeshua Ha Mashiach, who said, "As it was in the days of Noah, so shall it be at the coming of the Son of Man..." Okay, so put it all together. In Noah's time there was tainted DNA because of the incursion of fallen angels who had coitus with human women and the result was a race of giants who were half human and half "sons of God." The book of Enoch goes on to explain that these Nephilim were aggressive and Enoch goes as far as to say that when the Nephilim had devoured the resources of mankind, they then started to devour mankind itself. In essence, it means that they ate people. So, before the flood there were half human giants that ate people, and that was in the days of Noah, according to scripture. Enoch says that Yahweh saw what was going on and he caused the giants to battle each other and kill each other off; but the Nephilim seed had corrupted most of mankind and the rest of mankind was corrupted all on its own. Enoch says that the disembodied spirits of the Nephilim became the demons that we are plagued with and have been ever since. So, before the flood there was demon possession that furthered mankind's rebellion toward Yahweh and that was probably another reason for Yahweh to destroy the world with a great flood.

What many fail to realize is that the days of Noah go well into the post-flood world. He lived about three hundred years after the flood; his life and that of our Father Abraham could have overlapped by 30 or more years. So now we have the Nephilim killed before the flood, Noah and his family (all with good human DNA) all saved from the flood and left to repopulate the earth. However, we read accounts of giants again becoming a problem upon the earth. Whole tribes of them populated Canaan when Israel came into the land after our freedom from Mizraim (Egypt); Melech David picked up four stones when he went to battle Goliath; he knew that Goliath had three brothers. Detractors, who try to state that Goliath just suffered from pituitary disorder that resulted in an overabundance of growth hormone fail to realize that this genetic disorder is singular and doesn't produce a family of giants. It causes a degradation of health and ultimately an early death. In reality, there had been an second incursion of fallen angels (not the ones from the first incursion before the flood) that tried to again pervert the DNA structure of mankind.

Think about it, why would Yahweh, our God of love and forgiveness, command the Army of Israel to enter cities and to destroy every man, woman, child and animal in that city and to take nothing out of them? DNA corruption of those cities by a second incursion would be the only answer why a God of Love would make such a command. Why was Israel strongly commanded NOT to take wives of the Canaanite women; perhaps tainted DNA? Why would Yahweh command them not to make treaties or to become friends with the Canaanites in the land? Again, perhaps because of enticement to interbreed with corrupted DNA? And why keep Israel away from entanglements with all of these people, or "creatures" as the case may be? The answer is simple actually. The Messiah would come from Israel, from Yehuda to be exact, and Messiah could not have tainted DNA. Messiah had to be purely human so that He could be a "Kinsman Redeemer," which scripture said He would be. A Kinsman is one of our own, our kin, our people; He had to be born to a fully human female so that his atoning death could save humans, not Nephilim seed.

We jump to modern day now and we read in articles or on websites that people do find Nephilim skeletons. We read that (and this needs verification) that the reason that Native Americans raised their hands up in gesture upon meeting new people was so that they could count fingers; the Nephilim rumored to have been noticeable by having six fingers on each hand. Native American tradition talks about giants and how they attacked the Natives. This caused the Indians to hunt down the giants and kill them. No modern-day Nephilim huh?

The most damning evidence however is in a book that I just read, titled "Solomon Islands Mysteries – Accounts of Giants and UFOs in The Solomon Islands." The book's author is Marius Boirayon; and Australian who lived for quite a while in The Solomon Islands and married into the culture there. The book talks a lot about cannibalistic giants that live on those islands and about underground "extraterrestrial" bases that the author believes interface with the giants and might even be their creators. Do you see a parallel here between the biblical account and the account that he relates? Before the flood we have giants (Nephilim) eating people and fallen angels abducting women and creating these giants through sexual intercourse. In the modern account the same is happening according to Boirayon.

Boirayon also tells of accounts of half-breed giants, the product of the modern Nephilim and human women who seem to have a natural tendency to become demon possessed and cannibalistic. He compares them to what a Neanderthal would look like in our modern day; very interesting and revelatory to who the Neanderthal's really were, perhaps? His book's account of these half breed creatures explains (to me anyway) a second incursion and the giants of Canaan and why Yahweh would command the destruction of certain cities and tribes that possessed the land before Israel entered into it.

Now for those of you who are thinking that Boirayon is one of us crazy Christians who believes in a new Nephilim incursion into society let me put your mind at rest. He never claims to be a believer and can even be found to mock scripture a time or two and I think at best I walked away from the book thinking that perhaps, at best, he is an agnostic. He seems to point to Yahweh being an extraterrestrial if that makes you feel better. So why read a book by someone so opposed to the notion of a God, or a supernatural God? Well, the relation of history, as long as it isn't tainted by religious or atheistic dogma isn't necessarily wrong. Christians quote from Flavius Josephus many times and it was clear that he was a secular Jew who was a historian for the Romans. Philo was another example. One man, who claims to be a believer in Yeshua, yet who has changed his mind in regard to modern day Nephilim has said for years, and still says, "the proof is in the testimonies." Well, this book is filled with testimonies, not only by the author, but by native Solomon Islanders. The author relates a few folklore stories from the Solomon Islands which mirror the modern-day accounts of people he has interviewed, showing that these phenomena have plagued the Islanders for many years. He also makes some correlation to why the Japanese didn't have a strong presence on the Solomon Islands, suggesting that UFOs and being eaten alive by cannibalistic giants caused the Japanese to not want to be there.

I've always been a history nut as well as having an interest in conspiracies. If you like those sorts of things the book is loaded with a history of The Solomon Islands; the colonization of the people, how they fared in independence and how they currently fair. He even goes into how The Solomon Islands play into the NWO scheme of things. Frankly, it is a fascinating book and finishing it in the wee early hours of this morning is why work will not be too much fun today (as if that would be the only reason) ...LOL.

As believers in Yeshua, especially those of us in the Western World, we tend to see things from a sterile atmosphere. Picking up a book about cannibalistic giants, UFOs and other strange stuff might turn some off. I will warn you however that since Yeshua said that when He comes back the world will be EXACTLY as it was in the Days of Noah, then perhaps the accounts related to us by Marius Boirayon about The Solomon Islands should be paid attention to. And ask yourself one more question. Why does the media seem to be preparing us for flesh eating zombies, the undead, vampires and all sorts of strange things? Perhaps our minds are being prepared for a terrible future; one that would cause men's hearts to fail them because they see what is coming upon the earth? Maybe we're not being conditioned for the future; perhaps a better word would be marinated?

I'm not one of those who believes in a pre-tribulation rapture. I'm more pre-wrath in my interpretation of scripture. I don't deny that there could be a Pre-Trib rapture, but will it be a godly one or will it be a mock rapture by the enemy. If it is a godly one then hallelujah, we won't be here to see these things. HOWEVER, if we're going to be here until Yahweh's wrath is poured out on an unbelieving world then we should be prepared to see some very strange and threatening thing. If you're not secure in the loving hands of Yeshua Ha Mashiach then you perhaps better reconsider.

Special thanks to my friend and brother DC who recommended this book to me. Your suggestion did me a great deal of good and further thrust me forward to fight against the ignorance of genius' and naysayers.
